▶ Now that's how it works.

▶ Unfortunately, preliminary report.

遗憾在于其初步性。

▶ A more comprehensive report will be issued.

▶ However, we would love to know, and I think there are some victims' families saying as well, to be able to get the access to the transcript of the cockpit force recorded to understand what happened in the cockpit that led to the tragic event.

但家属与我们都希望获取驾驶舱录音文字稿以还原真相。

▶ So the focus so much now on those two fuel control switches abruptly move to the cut-off position on the 787 Dreamliner.

当前焦点在于787梦幻客机两燃油开关突被切断。

Back to Top

🎧 Tell us what you think about those switches, and we've been hearing ever since this report came out about the fact it's very difficult to move these into the cut-off position.

请谈谈这些开关——报告强调其切断操作极难意外触发。

🎧 That is correct.

确实如此。

🎧 So the switches are all recorded, all guarded in a sense.

开关设有防护装置。

🎧 So you have to basically pour the toggle out to move it into cut-off or the run position for that to become into effect.

需提起拨杆才能切换状态。

Back to Top

🎧 Once it is in the cut-off position, the fuel will be cut off entirely from the engine and the engine will decelerate.

一旦切断，发动机将完全断油减速。

🎧 Now, the carousel now, we don't know whether it has been physically moved to cut-off position or whether it's stemmed from a computer chip problem, which is suggested in the report itself, that the report sets about the safety bulletin that was concerned where the microchip has had more than the required thermal cycles and need replacing possibly.

目前不确定是人为切断还是芯片故障——报告提及安全公告称芯片热循环超限需更换。

🎧 So one investigative angle would be to understand what maintenance actions have been carried out or whether or not the switches were actually moved physically and whether or not there was part of the emergency checklist.

调查方向包括：维护记录、开关是否被物理拨动、是否属紧急检查单操作。

Back to Top

 00:08:11

⌂ So there are emergency checklists out there that will require the pilots to move the switches to the cut-off position and then back onto run position.

某些紧急程序要求飞行员先切断再恢复燃油。

⌂ For example, when both engines are not running, they were attempt to relight the engine.

如双发熄火时尝试重启。

⌂ So if that were the case, that could be a possibility, but without having access to the full transcript of the copy-files recorder if purely speculative as the stage.

若属此情况则有可能，但无完整录音稿前仅为推测。

Back to Top

 00:08:31

⌂ Right, and you mentioned a safety bulletin that went out in 2018 about these switches.

您提到2018年关于这些开关的安全公告。

⌂ It went out from the Federal Aviation Authority in the USA, but it wasn't mandatory, so it's not believed that India acted upon that particular bulletin.

美国联邦航空局发布但非强制，印航疑似未执行。

⌂ That's correct.

正是。

⌂ Now, there's actually a separate bulletin as well.

另有一份独立公告。

🎧 I would like to bring into line-line that's another one in December 2018, again, from FAA.

2018年12月FAA再度发布。

Back to Top

 00:08:56

🎧 That particular bulletin was telling the operators to inspect the switches themselves, because some switches are believed when they were installed.

要求运营商检查开关锁定功能。

🎧 They didn't have the locking function.

部分开关安装时无锁定功能。

🎧 So they were asking the operators to check whether the locking function were working effectively.

需确认锁定功能有效。

🎧 Together with another safety bulletin that you mentioned as well, and it's worthwhile to mention they are recommendations.

需注意这些仅为建议。

Back to Top

 00:09:19

🎧 So it's not an airworthiness directive where you must comply with those actions, but it will be interesting to know whether air India has carried out the maintenance actions following the recommendation and what would general electrics FAA and Boeing do in the aftermath of this event and this report.

非强制适航指令，但印航是否执行建议及波音/FAA后续行动值得关注。

Which brings me to ask, I mean, after a disaster of this magnitude, how unusual is it for everything to continue as normal when we don't know why this disaster happened?

如此重大空难原因未明却一切如常是否反常？

It's a very good question as well, but the content argument would also go, if we don't know what has been going on, it would be too early for the authorities, the manufacturers, the operators to rush into a decision to carry out certain actions.

关键在于：真相未明前，各方仓促行动为时过早。

Back to Top

 00:10:04

Now, I'll give you an example.

举例而言：

The previous grounding of the Boeing aircraft, 737, Maxis, for example, the fleet were grounded because there were two successive occurrences of the same courses and the line there and Ethiopian crashes.

波音737 MAX因两起相似空难停飞。

However, this is the first event.

而本次属首例。

We don't actually know what caused the fuel switches to be in a colour position.

燃油开关切断原因未明。

So it would be too quick to rush into conclusion to then say we must ground the fleet.

立即停飞结论过于草率。

Back to Top

 00:10:32

⏮ However, having said that, I believe the operators and the manufacturers themselves were now saying to other operators, less inspect the aircraft, less inspect the microchip, less inspect the switches to ensure it is running properly.

但运营商与制造商已建议检查飞机、芯片及开关。

⏮ Marco Chan, thank you very much for your time from the Buckinghamshire New University and former airline pilot.

白金汉郡新大学马可·陈，感谢您的时间。

 That carrot and stick approach coming from individual EU leaders too.

欧盟各国领导人亦采取胡萝卜加大棒策略。

 And I think it's really important to remember, although the EU are large trading block, really important trading partner for the US, it's made up of lots of individual countries, some of course, which are much more reliant on exports to the US than others.

需注意欧盟虽作为整体是美国重要贸易伙伴，但其由多个对美出口依赖度不同的成员国组成。

▶ And how much optimism there is that this can be seen as just a negotiating tactic and these tariffs might not actually happen on the first of August.

以及多大程度上可将其视为谈判策略，关税或不会在8月1日真正实施。

▶ That I guess would be the hope.

这或许是人们的期望。

▶ I mean, look, 20% to put it in context, 10% is kind of this global tariff.

协议关键在于英欧追求的不只是基准税率调整，而是针对钢铁、汽车制造等重点行业的特殊安排。

但我们仍乐观认为30%关税实为推动进一步谈判的手段。

▶ If it was 20%, it could be as a definitive one, but 30% for us, it doesn't make sense.

20%或是最终税率，但30%完全不合逻辑。

▶ It's a complete disruption of the trade relations between the US and the EU.

这将彻底破坏美欧贸易关系。

▶ So, are you a bit optimistic?

那么您持乐观态度？

 00:15:52

▶ Yes, I'm reading that the United States of America remains the largest export destination for EU wines.

是的，美国仍是欧盟葡萄酒最大出口市场。

▶ That is almost a third of your EU wine exports in value.

占欧盟葡萄酒出口总值近三分之一。

▶ Absolutely.

确实如此。

▶ So it's 27% and 28% of our exports after the European Union goes to the US.

欧盟外销葡萄酒中27%-28%输往美国。

▶ There is no way we can find another market where these wines that we are not listening to the risk and it can be the way.

我们无法迅速找到替代市场消化这些产量。

 00:16:22

▶ So with other US markets, there will be a huge crisis in the wine sector.

失去美国市场将引发葡萄酒行业巨大危机。

▶ We are not going through the best moment today and these will be just a heartbeat that will just sink part of our sector.

当前行业已处困境，此举将重创部分企业。

▶ And you don't think that the US consumer could cope with a potential 30% increase in the price they pay for your products?

您认为美国消费者无法承受30%的涨价？

▶ No, not at all.

完全无法承受。

▶ I mean, this is 30% as you know, as many in the US, you have a what we call a three-year system.

美国实行三级分销体系。

Back to Top

 00:16:49

▶ So that separation between the importer, the distributor and the retainer.

进口商、分销商与零售商层层分离。

▶ It's mandatory.

这是强制规定。

▶ You have to have another operator in the middle.

必须经过中间环节。

▶ So two middlemen between you and the final consumer.

最终消费者前有两道中间商。

▶ This means that at 30%, we increase at each stage of the supply chain and we kick you out.

30%关税将在供应链各环节累加，最终导致产品被市场淘汰。

▶ I mean, there is no consumer that we accept for a normal wine to pay 50%, 60%, 70% more.

普通葡萄酒涨价50%-70%将失去所有消费者。

Back to Top

 00:17:16

▶ Right.

确实。

▶ Some fine wines, some iconic wines, okay, perfect.

顶级名酒或可例外。

▶ You want to open a don't tell any bottle, you don't think about the price, but for normal wine, we are completely out.

但普通葡萄酒将完全退出市场。

▶ So the top end potentially, you've got people who don't even notice the amount that they pay for a very expensive bottle of wine, but your average consumer will be put off by this increase.

高端消费者或许不在意价格，但普通消费者会被涨价劝退。

 00:17:38

 Yes, I think not the average.

不仅是普通消费者。

 It will be the large majority of people will not accept this inflation.

绝大多数人无法接受这种涨幅。

 So we will be out of the market.

我们将失去市场。

 Very briefly, you represent EU wine producers.

简而言之，您代表欧盟葡萄酒生产商。

 What would you like the European Union to do now in negotiations to try to get rid of this threat?

希望欧盟在谈判中采取何种对策？

 I think the European Commission is doing well.

欧盟委员会当前做法正确。

 This putting all the efforts is trying not to polarize the discussions and is putting system at least some elements on the table to negotiate.

努力避免谈判极化，并系统性提出协商要素。

 00:18:09

 What we are asking them is, use us.

我们希望委员会以葡萄酒行业为例。

▶ I mean, wine, we have a super good relation with the US wine industry, our products, because of this three-tier system for every dollar that we sell in the US, we generate 4.5 dollars in benefits in the supply chain in the US.

每1美元葡萄酒销售能为美国供应链创造4.5美元收益。

▶ So use us.

请以我们为例。

▶ Put us as an example of a win-win situation.

展示双赢案例。

▶ And we wonder, European Commission, to continue its work, to try hard to negotiate, because we cannot disrupt not just for wine, but between the two economies.

望欧盟委员会全力推进谈判，因贸易中断将损害两大经济体。

 00:18:42

▶ We cannot disrupt this trade.

绝不能破坏贸易关系。
