▶ Why do you think the budget is so late?

你为什么认为预算案这么晚才发布？

bilibili 00:04:31

▶ I think the Treasury are very keen to get their independent forecast on the obviously of the budget responsibility to take into account what they're calling a package of supply side reforms.

我认为财政部非常希望其独立预测机构——预算责任办公室——能够考虑到他们所谓的供给侧改革一揽子计划。

⏮ And most notably in planning reforms for major projects and the three trade deals for the UK's strikes was the last time the FBI provided the forecast.

最值得注意的是在重大项目的规划改革和英国达成的三项贸易协议方面，上次是FBI（应为OBR，预算责任办公室）提供的预测。

⏮ And if they can score those as additive for the UK economy in terms of it for lead to the UK economy growing faster, then the scale of tax increases that will be required to keep it in the fiscal rules will be reduced.

如果他们能将这些（改革）评定为对英国经济具有加成作用，能导致英国经济增长更快，那么为遵守财政规则而所需的增税规模将会减小。

 00:05:11

⏮ And therefore a later budget gives more time to have a negotiation with the OBR and Sylic Spine say the mean on the OBR.

因此，较晚的预算案给予更多时间与预算责任办公室（OBR）进行谈判，并且Sylic Spine（可能指某机构或人）说这意味着对OBR施加影响。

⏮ She did sound quite annoyed about the speculation and about the various numbers that have been put out there in terms of the size of the of the whole in finances.

她确实对猜测以及外界提出的关于财政窟窿规模的各种数字显得相当恼火。

⏮ But it is a big issue and despite her trying to sound as assured as ever as Chancellor, she's in a very difficult place.

但这确实是一个大问题，尽管她作为财政大臣试图听起来像以往一样自信，但她处境非常艰难。

 00:05:45

⏮ Well like you Sally actually I was struck by how forthright her tone her language was being directly critical of the National Institute of Economic and Social Research.

嗯，莎莉，实际上我和你一样，对她直言不讳的语气和直接批评国家经济与社会研究所（NIESR）的言辞印象深刻。

⏮ Now as I think I've got to give a little bit of an answer.

现在，我想我必须稍微回答一下。

🎧 Quite of a push back not just from Chancellor but also from her officials on the I did they're the ones leaking plans that effective markets to keep bank prices listed in the UK which in their defence was not a suggestion to help them but from the external think talent.

这确实是一次强烈的反驳，不仅来自财政大臣，也来自她的官员，关于...（录音不清）他们是泄露计划的人，这些计划影响市场以保持银行股价在英国上市，而他们辩护说这不是一个帮助他们的建议，而是来自外部智库。

 00:06:15

🎧 But you are absolutely correct that even with those strong rebuttals there is a very difficult budget moving and I think the built market fixing come markets around the world while they're selling off on widespread debt concerns.

但你完全正确，即使有这些强烈的反驳，一份非常棘手的预算案仍在推进，而且我认为全球市场都在抛售，出于广泛的债务担忧，同时也在关注英国市场。

🎧 They're looking at the UK and saying you have some of those particular challenges.

他们正看着英国说，你们面临一些特定的挑战。

🎧 And she talked about the five cuts in interest rates and how there is more to do in terms of managing inflation and the economy from that perspective but but really the attention is on her and what they're going to do with the books far more than the bank of England in terms of what it can do to help the UK economy.

她谈到了五次降息，以及从管理通胀和经济角度来看还有更多工作要做，但真正注意力是在她身上，以及他们将如何处理账目，这远比英格兰银行能为英国经济做些什么更重要。

 00:06:52

🎧 Would you agree with that?

你同意这一点吗？

🎧 I think you're right.

我认为你是对的。

🎧 All be it the first point in time to like reassure modern markets comes on the 80th September and it's not a Chancellor's Day that's not Prime Minister's Day but it's fun so on we heard from yesterday Andrew Bailey the Governor of Bank of England and his decision on it is non-verson committee decision we set UK managed policy on the pace in which they're going to sell UK government debt, builds back to the market next year.

尽管第一个安抚市场的关键时间点是在9月80日（应为口误，可能指某特定日期），那天不是财政大臣日，也不是首相日，但有趣的是，我们昨天听到了英格兰银行行长安德鲁·贝利的讲话，他的决定是货币政策委员会的决定，他们设定了明年向市场出售英国政府债务（即国债）的步伐的英国管理政策。

 00:07:22

 I saw it like a chunk of light there that potentially they will so that pace even more than the market is expecting that will provide some light relief to the Chancellor and perhaps give some space to set a per budget for the 26th of November.

我从中看到一线希望，他们可能会（放缓）那个步伐，甚至比市场预期的更多，这将为财政大臣提供一些喘息之机，或许能为制定11月26日的预算案留出一些空间。

 Okay well we will keep in track of all the developments as they progress Simon thank you again for your time Simon French there from Pamure Liberium and just to say that in a few moments we'll be hearing those comments from Andrew Bailey he was grilled yesterday by Parliamentary select committee so we'll have some of that for you but let's first of all bring you some other business news.

好的，我们会持续关注所有进展。再次感谢你的时间，西蒙。以上是Panmure Liberium的西蒙·弗伦奇。另外要说的是，稍后我们将听到安德鲁·贝利的那些评论，他昨天受到了议会特别委员会的严厉质询，所以我们稍后会为您带来部分内容。但首先让我们为您带来一些其他商业新闻。

 A US federal court has told Google to pay $425 million for breaching users' privacy by collecting data from millions of users even after they had turned off a tracking feature in their Google accounts.

美国一家联邦法院命令谷歌支付4.25亿美元，因其侵犯用户隐私，在数百万用户关闭其谷歌账户中的跟踪功能后仍收集他们的数据。

 00:08:15

 The verdict comes after a group of users brought the case claiming Google accessed users mobile devices to collect, save and use their data in violation of privacy assurances.

这一判决是在一群用户提起诉讼之后做出的，他们声称谷歌访问用户的移动设备以收集、保存和使用他们的数据，这违反了隐私承诺。

 00:08:53

▶ Now let's focus on the US economy where there are clear signs America's jobs market is softening.

现在让我们关注美国经济，有明确迹象表明美国的就业市场正在疲软。

▶ New data shows that for the first time in nearly a year there are more job seekers than job openings.

新数据显示，近一年来首次出现求职者人数多于职位空缺的情况。

▶ Here's Michelle Flurry who's in New York for us.

这是米歇尔·弗勒里在纽约为我们带来的报道。

▶ For the first time since 2021 there are fewer job openings than there are unemployed people here in the United States.

这是自2021年以来，美国首次出现职位空缺数量少于失业人口的情况。

 00:09:16

▶ This is according to the latest job openings and labor turnover survey or Joltz as it's known on Wall Street.

这是根据最新的职位空缺和劳动力流动调查（JOLTS，华尔街的称呼）得出的结论。

🎧 In July there were 7.18 million job openings while the number of job seekers stood slightly higher at 7.2 million as just under one job available for every person looking for work.

七月份有718万个职位空缺，而求职者人数略高，为720万，相当于每个找工作的人对应不到一个职位。

🎧 Digging into the numbers job openings in healthcare and social assistance dropped by around 181,000 retail also saw a designificant decline.

深入研究数据，医疗保健和社会援助行业的职位空缺减少了约18.1万个，零售业也出现了显著下降。

 00:09:46

🎧 Now those losses were partially offset by gains in construction and manufacturing but taken together the report points to a softening in the US labor market.

这些损失部分被建筑和制造业的增长所抵消，但总体而言，该报告表明美国劳动力市场正在疲软。

🎧 Something we also saw in the official July jobs report when there were only 73,000 jobs added that month.

我们在七月份的官方就业报告中也有所发现，当月仅增加了7.3万个就业岗位。

🎧 That week number reportedly prompted President Donald Trump to fire the head of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the agency responsible for compiling that data.

🎧 And the Federal Reserve's Facebook, it's summary of economic conditions, echoed some of these concerns.

🎧 So give us your take on both the Facebook and the jobs news.

那么请谈谈你对褐皮书和就业新闻的看法。

🎧 What's your interpretation of all of this?

你对这一切作何解读？

🎧 Well the Facebook provided one of the more sour outlooks we've had out of that product in a number of years.

嗯，这份褐皮书提供了我们多年来从该产品中得到的较为悲观的展望之一。

 00:11:05

🎧 Just to get it to the point real quick a little to no change in growth, consumer spending is basically flat.

简单快速地说，增长几乎没有变化，消费者支出基本持平。

🎧 If you adjust it for inflation on a three-month average annualized pace, it's moving at 1%.

如果你按三个月平均年化速度并根据通货膨胀进行调整，它的增速是1%。

▶ Here in the United States we're used to seeing that move closer to two and a half to three percent on a sustained basis.

在美国，我们习惯于看到这个数字持续接近百分之二点五到三。

 00:11:24

▶ Perhaps the bigger problem is that wages are failing to keep up with prices.

也许更大的问题是工资未能跟上物价的上涨。

▶ Now that's always a recipe for an extended slowdown.

这总是导致经济长期放缓的一个原因。

▶ And of course employment, we're just not seeing the hiring that one would notice more over half of all the districts, 12 federal reserve districts that compile the the Facebook report says they're having problems with immigration.

当然还有就业，我们根本没有看到招聘的迹象，超过一半（12个美联储地区中）编制褐皮书的地区报告称它们在移民问题上遇到困难。

 00:11:48

▶ So that gives you a real good snapshot of what's going on in the United States.

▶ Okay.

好的。

▶ So given what you've just said, is it a no-brainer that rates will come down in September in the US?

那么，鉴于你刚才所说，美联储在九月份降息岂不是显而易见的事？

▶ Well, it's not quite a no-brainer, but you know after that Joltz data, I revised down my forecast for the August jobs report to 45,000.

嗯，并不完全是显而易见的，但你知道，在JOLTS数据公布后，我将对八月份就业报告的预测下调至4.5万人。

▶ I think if we come in anywhere near that, then we're going to see a guarantee 25 basis point rate but as your well-crafted segment indicated before, we may see yields at the front end of the treasury curve fall, but rise at the long end because investors are beginning to question whether central banks in the federal reserve in particular are going to give up the game on inflation and they're just going to accept higher inflation somewhere between 3 and 4% rather than the 2% target that all of us would like to see inflation move backwards.

我认为如果我们公布的数据接近这个数字，那么我们将看到保证降息25个基点，但正如你们精心制作的节目之前所指出的，我们可能会看到国债曲线前端收益率下降，但长期收益率上升，因为投资者开始质疑各国央行（尤其是美联储）是否会放弃对抗通胀的游戏，转而接受3%到4%之间的更高通胀率，而不是我们所有人都希望看到的2%的通胀目标。

现在让我们和来自City Index晨会的菲奥娜·钦科塔谈谈，菲奥娜。

🎧 This is just adding to the many voices on this.

这只是众多声音中的又一个。

🎧 We heard from Christine Lagarde earlier this week, the head of the European Central Bank, saying very similar things.

本周早些时候，我们听到了欧洲央行行长克里斯蒂娜·拉加德非常相似的说法。

🎧 Janet Yellen last week, former Fed Chair, and also former U.S. Treasury Secretary also warning about how important it is that the U.S. Central Bank remains independent.

上周，前美联储主席、也是前美国财政部长珍妮特·耶伦也警告了美国央行保持独立的重要性。

 00:15:34

🎧 Exactly.

确实。

🎧 I mean, it feels like it cannot be highlighted enough.

我的意思是，感觉再怎么强调都不为过。

🎧 This is completely unprecedented for a president of the U.S. to really try to exert so much influence over the Federal Reserve, which was created to be independent for a reason.

一位美国总统真正试图对美联储施加如此大的影响是完全前所未有的，而美联储被创建为独立机构是有原因的。

🎧 It looks at the longer term health of the U.S. economy, price stability, and stability

它着眼于美国经济的长期健康、价格稳定和稳定。

 00:15:59

🎧 In the jobs market, and much more than politicians, which tend to take a much more short-term approach to take popular decisions, which could actually be potentially harmful to the economy over the long term.

在就业市场方面，而且远比政客们更甚，政客们往往采取更短视的方法来做出受欢迎的决定，而这些决定从长远来看可能对经济有害。

🎧 Now, we know that Trump is looking to lower interest rates at a faster pace than what the Fed is comfortable doing, and he's been trying to orchestrate or moves, should we say, to that extent.

我们知道，特朗普希望以比美联储感到舒适更快的速度降息，并且他一直在试图策划或推动，我们应该这么说，朝这个方向努力。

🎧 So, I mean, there are a lot of concerns about what this could do, not just for potentially the U.S. economy, but also for investor confidence and for the global economy, because the U.S. obviously, the reserve currency of the world, so this could impact confidence globally as well.

所以，我的意思是，有很多人担心这会造成什么影响，不仅是对美国经济的潜在影响，还包括对投资者信心和全球经济的影响，因为美国显然是世界的储备货币发行国，所以这也可能影响全球的信心。

 00:16:43

🎧 And this will be very much in focus today, because Stephen Moran will be grilled by Senators later.

🎧 He is a White House economic adviser, but also President Trump's pick to be on the board at the Fed.

他是白宫经济顾问，也是特朗普总统提名的美联储理事人选。

🎧 So it's just adding momentum, isn't it, to this narrative about what's happening at the Fed?

所以这只是在给关于美联储正在发生之事的说法增加势头，不是吗？

🎧 Who will be a part of the team going forward?

谁将成为未来团队的一员？

 00:17:07

▶ That's right, and it does feel like the balance is starting to tick slightly more towards that dovish stance, so the stance where policymakers are slightly more in favour of acting to cut and loosen, cut interest rates and loosen monetary policy rather than adopt a more cautious approach.

没错，而且确实感觉天平开始略微向鸽派立场倾斜，即政策制定者略微更倾向于采取行动降息和放松，即降低利率和放松货币政策，而不是采取更谨慎的态度。

▶ So, as you've mentioned, we do have Stephen Moran.

所以，正如你提到的，我们确实有斯蒂芬·摩尔。

▶ He is suggested or to be known towards that more dovish stance.

显然，不同的经济学家有不同的立场，这完全正常。

▶ As we see that in the Bank of England, even, we've seen sort of rate cuts that have the vote just recently was very tight with some people thinking that some policymakers thinking it should happen and others shouldn't.

正如我们在英格兰银行甚至也看到的那样，最近关于降息的投票非常胶着，一些人认为一些政策制定者认为应该降息，而另一些则认为不应该。

▶ So that's normal, but what we're seeing, though, is that balance on the Fed is slightly shifting now, particularly with the removal of a Lisa Cook for the time being towards a Federal Reserve, which could be slightly more dovish in its stance.

所以这很正常，但我们看到的是，美联储内部的平衡现在正在发生轻微转变，特别是随着丽莎·库克暂时退出，转向一个立场可能略微更鸽派的美联储。

▶ Now onto the business of giving many charities rely on donations to do the great work that they do.

现在来关注慈善捐赠，许多慈善机构依靠捐款来完成他们所做的伟大工作。

 00:22:27

▶ The Charities Aid Foundation has just released its latest report on corporate giving and its findings are that an estimated £4.2 billion was donated by British business last year with nearly half of that coming from FTSE 100 companies.

慈善援助基金会刚刚发布了其关于企业捐赠的最新报告，其发现是英国企业去年捐赠了约42亿英镑，其中近一半来自富时100指数公司。

▶ If donations had kept up with inflation though, charities would have received £185 million more.

然而，如果捐赠跟上通货膨胀，慈善机构本可以多收到1.85亿英镑。

▶ The report found only 24 of the FTSE 100 gave at least a percent of their pre-tax profits to charities last year.

那么，你是否觉得你的报告中的发现相当令人失望？

▶ I presume.

我猜是的。

▶ Well, it's a mixed picture.

嗯，情况好坏参半。

▶ I think you're quite right to say that we need to celebrate that £4.2 billion, but we also need to recognise that that is coming from 25% of businesses.

我认为你说得很对，我们需要为那42亿英镑庆祝，但我们也需要认识到，这来自于25%的企业。

 00:23:30

▶ Perhaps the most stark message from this research is that 75% of British businesses are completely disengaged from any form of meaningful investment in the communities in which they operate.

也许这项研究最鲜明的信息是，75%的英国企业完全没有参与到对其运营所在社区的任何形式的有意义的投资中。

▶ And for us, we are concerned about that because corporate giving isn't some kind of optional extra.

对我们来说，我们对此感到担忧，因为企业捐赠不是某种可选的额外项目。

▶ It is a cornerstone of responsible and successful business that employees and customers expect.

这是负责任和成功企业的基石，也是员工和客户所期望的。

 00:24:00

▶ And what we very much like to see is that the best practice of 1% of pre-tax profits being committed to that community investment be adopted by more of British businesses,

我们非常希望看到的是，将税前利润的1%用于社区投资的最佳实践能被更多英国企业采纳，

▶ simply because charities right now are dealing with the triple whammy of escalating demand, rising costs while income is under severe pressure.

这仅仅是因为慈善机构目前正面临三重打击：需求不断升级、成本不断上升，而收入却面临巨大压力。

▶ Yeah, I mean, you make a very good point there.

是的，我的意思是，你提出了一个非常好的观点。

🎧 I was really shocked to read in your report that 75% of British businesses do nothing.

我在你的报告中读到75%的英国企业无所作为，这真的让我很震惊。

🎧 And it's not just giving finances, it's about time, perhaps, giving your employees time to spend with charities or help out or whatever or even goods that they make.

而且这不仅仅是提供资金，也许还关乎时间，比如给你的员工时间去陪伴慈善机构或提供帮助等等，甚至是他们制造的产品。

🎧 So what will cause that to change?

那么，什么会导致这种改变呢？

🎧 Because as you say, as the government has to squeeze spending on vital help and care for people in the country, often charities are the one standing in the gap.

因为正如你所说，随着政府不得不削减对国内民众的重要帮助和关怀支出，往往是慈善机构在填补这一空白。

🎧 I think that's exactly right.

我认为这完全正确。

🎧 One of the things that we are calling for is really to renew the British culture of giving.

我们呼吁的事情之一就是真正复兴英国的捐赠文化。

🎧 And that's right across society and includes business.

这涉及整个社会，也包括企业。

🎧 So one of the things that we are encouraging government to think about is about transparency reporting.

因此，我们鼓励政府考虑的事情之一就是透明度报告。

🎧 Back in 2013, a change to the Companies Act removed the need for companies to report their community investment.

早在2013年,《公司法》的一项修改取消了公司报告其社区投资的要求。

 00:25:32

▶ And what we've seen in the 10 years since that change is that corporate profits across the FTSE escalated by 49%.

而在这一变化之后的10年里,我们看到富时指数成分股公司的利润增长了49%。

▶ While investment in their communities reduced by 34% in real terms.

而他们对社区的投资实际却减少了34%。

▶ So we think reporting and transparency is an important element to it.

因此,我们认为报告和透明度是其中的一个重要因素。
