

Bloomberg Businessweek Daily: Markets Rally on Merger News and Economic Data

【【生词双高亮】 彭博社商业新闻 20250912 今日美股飙升 | 派拉蒙可能收购华纳兄弟 | 美联储降息预期升温 | 保守派领袖遇刺案进展】

Summary: This episode of Bloomberg Businessweek Daily covers a range of significant developments. The program opens on the 24th anniversary of 9/11, setting a reflective tone. A major story breaking is the potential acquisition of Warner Bros. Discovery by Paramount Skydance, a move that has sent shares of both companies soaring and sparked discussions about massive consolidation within the media and streaming industry, potentially financed by Oracle co-founder Larry Ellison. The markets are rallying broadly, with the S&P 500, Dow, and Nasdaq hitting records, fueled by a relatively tame inflation reading and signs of a cooling labor market, leading to increased speculation that the Federal Reserve might cut interest rates for the first time this year. In a somber note, the show details the ongoing FBI investigation into the assassination of conservative activist Charlie Kirk at a Utah campus event, treated as an attack on free speech. The program also features an exclusive interview with Citigroup CEO Jane Fraser, who expresses optimism about client activity in M&A and consumer spending, while noting a watchful eye on the labor market. Additional segments include an analysis of inflation and tariff impacts with an economist from Deutsche Bank, a discussion on political violence and geopolitical tensions with a Democratic congressman, and an exploration of the future of wearable technology and its potential to revolutionize women's health with an expert from the MIT Media Lab.

您看，这起事件发生在有3000人参与的校园大型公开活动期间，现场仅有六名警察负责安保。

▶ And then you've got a suspect who is relatively unknown in any way.

而嫌疑人各方面信息都相对未知。

⏮ No one saw him get on top of the roof and no one saw him leave.

无人目睹他登上屋顶，也无人看见他离开。

bilibili 00:05:50

⏮ But what they're working on right now are footwear impressions, palm prints, seeing if they can get a latent print from a cartridge.

但调查人员当前正着力处理鞋印、#掌#纹，试图从#弹壳#获取#潜在#指纹。

⏮ But that has to be linked to, you know, fingerprints in a system.

但这需要与系统中的指纹记录相匹配。

⏮ Right?

对吧？

⏮ Like, I worked for the city, so my fingerprints are in the system.

比如我曾为市政府工作，所以我的指纹在系统中有记录。

⏮ That doesn't happen for everybody.

但并非人人如此。

⏮ So it just makes it that much more difficult to figure out who this person The technology available today, the fact that there were people who were taking photos and videos of the event separate from this, obviously in separate from what we've seen circulate online in the last 22 hours or so.

这使得锁定嫌疑人身份更加困难。当前的技术条件以及现场有人拍摄了独立于过去22小时网络流传内容的活动照片视频...

▶ Or was he dropped off?

或是被人送达？

▶ You know, did he use a credit card?

是否使用过信用卡？

▶ You know, at a at a gas station?

▶ These are all the things that investigators have to do in a case when it's when it's not as clear cut.

这些都是案情不明朗时调查人员必须排查的环节。

▶ And this is about not as clear cut as it gets.

而本案正属于极不明朗的情况。

▶ One, that's definitely it'll be puzzling for an FBI office.

首先，这无疑会让联邦调查局办公室感到#困惑#。

▶ It's not as big as, say, the Colorado the Denver, Colorado office or here in New York, One of the smaller offices that just had its special agent in charge swapped out by the current FBI director.

即使不认同其观点，人们至少想听他的辩论。

⏮ Yeah, not to mention the attack on President Trump's life last year in Butler, Pennsylvania.

是的，更不用说去年宾州巴特勒针对特朗普总统的未遂刺杀。

 00:08:36

⏮ Miles, before we let you go, thinking about this, from the perspective not just of security, but also from Capitol Hill and the FBI and what we've heard from the FBI over the last day or so.

迈尔斯，结束前请从安全层面、国会山与联邦调查局角度，以及过去一天FBI的表态来谈谈看法。

⏮ Yesterday, we did hear something about subjects being questioned in custody.

昨天我们确实听到有人被拘留问话的消息。

⏮ Nothing came of that.

但并无实质进展。

⏮ That's that's done right.

一位被拘留的绅士，其家人声称他是#查理·柯克#（Charlie Kirk）的忠实支持者，绝不可能参与此事。

 00:09:03

▶ Another person was a local rabble rouser who wasn't involved either.

另一人则是当地煽动者，但同样未参与事件。

▶ But, you know, this does point at I think a point that you're getting at was which was the FBI director being eager to tweet.

但此事确实指向——我认为你提到的关键点在于——联邦调查局局长急于发布推文。

▶ And then those tweets both, you know, not bearing out, being the person responsible.

而这些推文最终都未能#证实#（bearing）相关人员的责任。

▶ It's something that we haven't seen in the past.

这种情况我们以往从未见过。

 00:09:21

▶ But this is a more vocal FBI director.

但这位联邦调查局局长更为#直言不讳#（vocal）。

▶ All of President Trump's agency heads are very vocal on social media.

特朗普总统的所有机构负责人都在社交媒体上非常#活跃#（vocal）。

▶ That rush definitely hinders the investigation because the investigators are like, whoa, we have this one.

这种仓促行为无疑会阻碍调查，因为调查人员会以为找到了嫌疑人。

▶ Oh, it's not that person.

结果发现并非此人。

▶ Now we've got to move back on.

于是又得重新开始调查。

▶ And then you've got social media identifying people incorrectly and then having their families dox and all of So that plays a big role in this as well, which is a reminder, if you think about other moments of either terrorism or domestic uncertainty that involves shootings, that, you know, investigators and officials have often said, let's wait until we have all the information and be very careful about putting any information out there on.

再加上社交媒体错误指认当事人导致其家人遭受人肉搜索——这同样构成重要影响因素。回顾以往恐怖主义或涉枪国内动荡事件，调查人员和官员常强调：务必掌握全部信息后再谨慎发布消息。

bilibili 00:09:59

▶ It is really confirmed.

这一点已得到充分验证。

▶ Miles Miller, thank you so much.

迈尔斯·米勒，非常感谢您。

▶ Miles is, of course, senior reporter covering homeland security and the FBI here at Bloomberg News joining us in studio.

迈尔斯是彭博新闻社负责国土安全与联邦调查局报道的高级记者，今日来到演播室参与节目。

好的。

▶ We are keeping a watch on that.

我们将持续关注此事。

▶ And then there's several stories that are going on today that are certainly impacting the markets at this moment.

据知情人士透露，派拉蒙天空之舞正准备竞购竞争对手华纳兄弟探索公司。

▶ This story initially reported out by The Wall Street Journal, now matched by our own Luca Shaw, we see shares of Paramount Sky up about 9% in today's trade.

该消息由《华尔街日报》首发，经本台卢卡·肖核实后，可见派拉蒙天空之舞股价今日交易中上涨约9%。

▶ And Warner Brothers Discovery as the target.

而作为被收购目标的华纳兄弟探索公司——

bilibili 00:10:36

▶ No surprise you're looking at this one, Tim, up more than 30%.

蒂姆，其股价飙升逾30%并不令人意外。

▶ Caroline Hyde is the co-host of Bloomberg Technology on Bloomberg TV.

卡罗琳·海德是彭博电视《彭博科技》栏目联合主持人。

▶ She joins us here in the Bloomberg Businessweek studio.

她现身处彭博商业周刊演播室。

▶ Carolyn, initially we did see shares of Paramount Skydance lower on this, and then they ended up moving higher.

卡罗琳，最初#派拉蒙#（Paramount）天空之舞股价因此下跌，但最终反转走高。

▶ Not typical that we'd see both companies higher with news like this, but I guess, hey, people are concerned about the cash source of David Ellison, so.

并购消息使双方股价齐涨并不常见，但可能市场关注大卫·埃里森的资金来源。

▶ Right.

确实。

▶ Because it looks as though the cash source would be family.

因为资金似乎来自家族。

▶ ELLISON okay.

埃里森家族。

▶ And who was at one point the most wealthy person in the world yesterday and then settled just $1 billion below Elon Musk by Larry Ellison.

拉里·埃里森曾登顶世界首富，目前身家仅比埃隆·马斯克少10亿美元。

▶ And that was an enormous move.

这是巨大的资产变动。

▶ We saw an oracle.

我们见证了#甲骨文# (oracle) 的威力。

▶ Now you see a similar plus 30% move on Warner Brother Discovery, which should be the target in this particular area.

现在华纳兄弟探索作为收购目标同样出现30%涨幅。

bilibili 00:11:19

▶ It's a record move for the stock, but I think so many people feel that fundamentally this is what we need to see in the industry consolidation.

这对该股是创纪录波动，但许多人认为这恰是行业整合所需。

▶ You're seeing David Zaslav over 100 Brothers Discovery unwinding the deal he did several years ago.

大卫·扎斯拉夫正在解构他几年前促成的华纳兄弟探索合并案。

▶ Right, Because ultimately you've got cable on one side and then you have studios and streaming on the other, you want to split those apart and the likelihood is Paramount would be interested in the studios and in that area.

确实，因为最终需要将有线电视业务与影视制作流媒体业务分离，而派拉蒙可能对后者感兴趣。

▶ Well, to that point, we should know.

关于这点需要注意。

▶ Netflix shares hitting a session low, down more than 4% after this report came out.

此消息传出后，奈飞股价跌超4%创当日新低。

▶ So this is all starts to get interesting.

局势开始变得有趣。

▶ I mean, that's what it's all about, though.

但这正是核心所在。

▶ It's all about Netflix.

一切都关乎奈飞。

▶ It's all about streaming and it's all about M&A.

关乎流媒体，关乎并购。

▶ And I think you'll speak to so many analysts on the street have just been waiting for this sort of thing to happen.

众多市场分析师始终期待这类事件发生。

 00:11:59

▶ But you did need certain areas to come into force.

但需要特定条件成熟。

▶ You needed, of course, Comcast to be starting to split itself into.

需要康卡斯特启动分拆。

▶ You needed Warner Brothers to solve Discovery.

需要华纳兄弟探索完成整合。

▶ To be talking about splitting itself into the interesting deal is why is Paramount trying to buy both bets?

现在讨论分拆之际，有趣的是为何#派拉蒙#（Paramount）试图全面收购？

▶ Most people feel that the value for Paramount as a key studio maker, as a key streaming focus, would be, of course, the areas of growth that Harry Potter and they and the DC Comics and the studio side, a Warner Brothers Why do they want CNN?

多数认为，作为核心制片商与流媒体焦点，派拉蒙看中的应是华纳兄弟的成长性资产——哈利波特、DC漫画等影视板块。为何还要收购CNN？

bilibili 00:12:25

▶ Why do they want some of the more struggling cable parts of the business?

为何收购陷入困境的有线电视业务？

▶ Or maybe they feel that they could get more than the sum of their parts if they then sold those off in more interesting M&A, right?

或许他们认为通过后续拆分出售能实现1+1>2的并购价值？

▶ Like just buy it.

先全盘收购。

▶ All right.

没错。

▶ And then figure out like the parts that they don't want any chance somebody else comes in?

再剥离不需要的资产——万一其他买家出现呢？

▶ Could there be another interested party?

是否会有其他竞购方？

▶ I mean, as we've heard, like the expectations around consolidation in this industry?

鉴于行业整合预期强烈？

▶ Exactly.

正是。

⏮ And look, you talk to some of the new leadership that have been thinking about when you see the sun has been splitting off, for example, from the other key areas of Comcast, they've been saying, look, we're not going to be like a dying ember of cable news here and cable sports.

康卡斯特分拆业务后，新管理层表示不愿成为有线新闻与体育频道的余烬。

⏮ We're actually going to be acquisitive.

而是要主动#并购# (acquisitive)。

⏮ But many feel that they're actually could be acquisitive more in the area start ups, more in the area of the future of sports growth, the future of news, but perhaps not other cable networks.

但人们认为其并购方向可能是初创企业、体育新闻未来增长领域，而非传统有线网络。

⏮ But they haven't taken their name off the table when it comes to remember this A&E outlet as so many of these other companies that could be really interesting targets.

但A&E等平台仍是潜在目标，这些公司未被排除在并购名单外。

 00:13:20

⏮ I think Bloomberg Intelligence, ABC already saying, look, from a Warner Brothers Discovery perspective, you're looking at maybe $17 would be the right sort of price for the whole business as a whole.

彭博行业研究认为，对华纳兄弟探索而言，17美元或是合理估值。

⏮ And you're seeing it move up to that as we speak.

此刻股价正朝该目标迈进。

⏮ You know, at the beginning of like our careers, this would be a regulatory issue.

在我们职业生涯早期，这种并购会面临监管审查。

⏮ Yeah.

确实。

 00:13:37

▶ The the government would get involved and say we don't want this much.

政府会介入并反对过度整合。

▶ Media consolidation is not even part of the concern for analysts right now because the ecosystem has been so beat up and the competition just isn't from cable network to cable network, but it's from its eyeballs.

如今媒体整合已非分析师担忧重点，因为行业生态遭受重创，竞争不再限于有线电视网之间，而是眼球争夺战。

▶ The competitive to TV now is YouTube.

电视的竞争对手是YouTube。

▶ The competitor to a stream of the streaming platforms is tick tock.

流媒体平台的#竞争者# (competitor) 是#抖音# (tick) tock。

▶ Is that different ways in which you can charge subscription based driving for this value of the business?

是否可通过#订阅#（subscription）制等不同模式驱动业务价值？

🎧 I think this is an entire industry that has been upended and I think most feel to even allow them to sustain themselves going forward, you've got to allow M&A, otherwise they just start to die out.

整个行业已被颠覆，多数人认为唯有允许并购才能持续发展，否则将逐步消亡。

 00:14:26

🎧 You cover this world, you know, it just feels like media, technology, everything is just kind of merging.

你报道该领域时是否感到媒体、科技等一切都在融合？

🎧 I don't know.

难以断言。

🎧 What are you watching out for?

你关注哪些动向？

🎧 Like what might be the next kind of shoe to drop here in terms of this story?

此事件后续可能如何发展？

🎧 Well, I think of this story it is going to be interesting as to in whether we see these purchases happen in cash only, whether you start to see interesting ways in which a financing certain deals.

我认为看点在于：会否出现全现金收购？是否出现创新融资方式？

 00:14:46

🎧 I think a lot of the storytelling for these new businesses, particularly in the cable areas that we're going to be spending off, is this thing we're going to be cash rich.

这些新业务（尤其将被剥离的有线电视业务）的叙事重点在于“现金充裕”。

🎧 Actually, we're going to have the balance sheet to be able to put to work.

实际上它们将拥有可运作的资产负债表。

▶ For me, this is just, look, we are at record highs in the stock.

对我而言，当前股价处于历史高位。

▶ Market.

市场方面。

▶ You are seeing people going all in on the artificial intelligence story, but there is still so much optimism and deal making.

虽然人们全力押注人工智能，但并购市场仍充满#乐观#（optimism）情绪。

不知还有多少亿万富豪能参与竞购。

▶ But Larry Ellison is clearly something different.

但拉里·埃里森显然与众不同。

▶ How many can say, hey, dad, I need a little help here?

几人能说"老爸，借点钱"？

▶ Just kidding.

开个玩笑。

▶ So finally on the streaming side of this for consumers, should we think about this from the context of one option, perhaps in the future for Paramount Plus subscribers and HBO, Max or Max or whatever it's called now, subscribers, this becomes one thing.

最后从消费者流媒体角度，是否未来派拉蒙+与HBO Max（或现用名）用户将共享一个平台？

▶ It's supercharged and you can get everything from Warner Brothers, Discovery and Paramount Skydance.

整合后将能获取华纳兄弟探索与#派拉蒙#（Paramount）天空之舞全部内容。

▶ And you're really smart to put it that way, because look how we're seeing Disney trying to interact with its own bundling in the way I just wanted ESPN, Hulu, Disney, 30 bucks a month.

这个观点很犀利——看看迪士尼如何打包ESPN、Hulu和迪士尼+：月费30美元。

▶ I just bought it and suddenly it makes more sense.

购买后顿时觉得超值。

bilibili 00:15:49

▶ Like what old is new again?

仿佛复古即新潮。

▶ Before we wanted everything to spin off and now we want to go to once again, you and I.

过去追求分拆，现在又回归整合。

▶ And I think that that ultimately has to be the way in which they can drive cross-pollination.

这最终将成为促进业务交融的方式。

▶ And you will see people want to be able to just go to a one stop shop like you're seeing even deals done across the aisle with Amazon having being able to offer other rivals.

正如亚马逊能提供竞争对手服务，人们需要一站式平台。

bilibili 00:16:07

▶ I mean, we will just generally want one go to button that we can click and suddenly voila, we can get all of them.

只需点击一个按钮就能获取所有内容。

▶ I think you could do that with a cable subscription.

通过有线电视#订阅#（subscription）即可实现。

▶ I think you can do that.

完全可行。

▶ Right?

对吧？

▶ It's called revolution or evolution, guys.

这叫做革命或#演进# (evolution)。

▶ Exactly.

正是。

▶ Incredible story.

精彩绝伦。

简·弗雷泽在独家访谈中表示。

▶ Of course, she's the CEO of Citigroup talking about clients becoming more active on M&A.

这位花旗集团CEO提到客户正更积极参与并购。

▶ She did a wide ranging conversation with our team in Dubai.

她在迪拜与我们团队进行了广泛交流。

🎧 She also talked a little bit about the economy, the business environment and the investment backdrop.

还谈及经济、商业环境与投资#背景# (backdrop)。

 00:16:53

🎧 You've got to look at the collective impact of the tax policy, what's been happening with tariffs and indeed the increasing deregulation that we're seeing.

必须综合考量税收政策、关税动态及日益加剧的放松监管趋势。

🎧 And they work together as a package.

这些因素共同作用。

🎧 I think the most important piece for corporate clarity.

我认为对企业而言最重要的是#清晰度# (clarity)。

🎧 We hate uncertainty.

我们厌恶不确定性。

🎧 We like clarity.

我们青睐#清晰# (clarity)。

🎧 And our client base now is really starting to act with more confidence now that we've got clarity on those three fronts.

在这三方面明确后，客户正以更大信心采取行动。

 00:17:20

🎧 So active in the capital market arena and financing activity and much more active in investing, less sitting on the sidelines.

因此在资本市场#领域# (arena) 融资活动更活跃，投资参与度提升，观望情绪减少。

🎧 And M&A is being very, very active indeed, as we talked about.

如前所述，并购市场确实非常活跃。

🎧 And on the consumer side, pretty robust spending through the summer.

消费者方面，整个夏季支出相当#强劲#（robust）。

🎧 And we saw that really across all categories helped a bit by lower gas prices.

各类别支出均呈增长，部分受益于油价下跌。

 00:17:44

🎧 But the consumers being fiscally responsible, being more mindful around some spend, but still the spending levels were very pleasing.

消费者保持财务责任意识，对部分支出更谨慎，但整体支出水平令人满意。

🎧 So the momentum was pretty strong across all lines of your business in the second quarter.

因此，在所有业务线上的#势头#在第二季度都非常强劲。

🎧 Of course, you don't want to precipitate upcoming earnings, but can that momentum continue into the end of the year just in terms of what you're seeing in advisory, in deal making and in trading, because it was a very strong quarter for trading as it was, it was exceptional for us on all fronts.

当然，你不想过早透露即将到来的盈利情况，但仅从你在咨询、交易撮合和交易业务中所看到的情况来看，这种势头能否持续到年底？因为交易业务本身就是一个非常强劲的季度，我们在所有方面都表现出色。

 00:18:15

🎧 And I still see very strong pipelines.

我仍然看到非常强劲的（业务）渠道。

🎧 I see high level of engagement from clients.

我看到客户的高度#参与#。

🎧 I see a sense of urgency as well, given the speed with which industry structures are changing and there is still growth opportunity, I think growth will be a notch lower.

我也看到了一种紧迫感，鉴于行业结构变化的速度之快，并且仍然存在增长机会，我认为增长将会放缓一个档次。

▶ We're keeping an eye on the labour

我们正在密切关注劳动力（市场）。

▶ It's a low churn market, so not everything is rosy, but we don't see a recession on the horizon.

这是一个低#流动率#的市场，所以并非一切都那么美好，但我们没有看到#衰退#在#地平线上#（即近期不会发生衰退）。

bilibili 00:18:41

▶ That, of course, is Citigroup CEO Jane Fraser and exclusive with our team, Bloomberg TV team over in Dubai.

当然，那是花旗集团首席执行官简·弗雷泽，她与我们团队、彭博电视台在迪拜的团队进行了独家访谈。

▶ So she's keeping and she and her team at Citi are keeping an eye on the labor

所以她和她在花旗的团队正在密切关注劳动力（市场）。

▶ Keep in mind, we are, too.

请记住，我们也是。

▶ And we also got an inflation print this morning that we also we're awaiting eagerly that read.

我们今天早上也得到了一个#通胀#数据，我们也在急切地等待这个读数。

▶ Actually, we got the read on inflation, forgive me, lost my place, but we also got a read on the U.S. jobs market.

实际上，我们得到了关于#通胀#的读数，请原谅，我忘了说到哪了，但我们也得到了关于美国就业市场的读数。

▶ Applications for US unemployment benefits jumping last week to the highest level in almost four years.

上周美国申请失业救济人数跃升至近四年来的最高水平。

▶ So there's a lot coming at investors.

因此，投资者面临很多信息。

▶ What I wanted to say is that the US inflation print that we got that we were eagerly awaiting, as expected in August, they rose, but it was in line with what the Street was expecting.

我想说的是，我们得到并热切期待的美国通胀数据，正如预期的那样在八月份上涨了，但这与华尔街的预期一致。

 00:19:22

▶ So curious to see what our next guest has to say.

所以很好奇我们下一位嘉宾会怎么说。

▶ Matthew Rossetti is chief U.S. economist and head of U.S. Economic research at Deutsche Bank, joining us here in studio.

马修·罗塞蒂（Matthew Rossetti）是德意志银行首席美国经济学家兼美国经济研究主管，他在演播室加入我们。

▶ Forgive me.

请原谅。

▶ There's a lot coming at us.

我们面临很多信息。

▶ There's a lot going on.

发生了很多事情。

▶ Do you agree with Jane Fraser that you're not worried about a recession?

你同意简·弗雷泽的观点吗，即你不担心#衰退#？

▶ She doesn't seem to be.

她似乎并不担心。

▶ Yeah, I would agree with that.

是的，我同意这一点。

▶ There's a few kind of interesting comments.

她有一些有趣的评论。

▶ And she noted a robust consumer, you know, in an environment where some of us are worried about the labor market, the robust consumer strong growth, the Atlanta Fed is actually tracking 3% for GDP growth in Q3.

她指出消费者表现强劲，你知道，在我们一些人担心劳动力市场的环境下，强劲的消费者和强劲的增长，亚特兰大联储实际上预测第三季度GDP增长为3%。

bilibili 00:19:53

▶ There's a lot of mixed signals on that front.

在这方面有很多混合信号。

▶ I would watch items like the labor market in the jobless claims data that we see.

我会关注像我们看到的失业救济金数据中的劳动力市场等项目。

▶ The loan churn environment that she's talking about in the labor market is absolutely there.

她所说的劳动力市场中贷款#流动#环境绝对是存在的。

▶ And the thing you get worried about is if layoffs begin to pick up, then undermines the consumer, then we can have recessionary dynamics.

而你担心的是，如果裁员开始增加，那就会削弱消费者，那么我们就出现衰退性的#动态#。

bilibili 00:20:09

▶ I would caution about interpreting this morning's data point as that there's a weird spike in the Texas jobless claims, which seems to be associated with the floods that you had earlier in July.

我要提醒的是，不要将今天早上的数据点解读为德克萨斯州的失业救济申请出现了奇怪的激增，这似乎与你们七月初的洪水有关。

▶ So I don't think that that was actually a real print.

所以我不认为那是一个真实的数据。

▶ I would expect that that comes back down.

我预计那个数据会回落。

▶ I have to be honest, I'm really confused about the inflation side of this economic story right now and why we're not seeing tariff price increases pass through on the data.

我必须诚实地说，我现在对经济故事中的通胀方面感到非常困惑，为什么我们没有看到关税价格上涨体现在数据中。

 00:20:32

▶ And I can share an anecdote yesterday, looking at an e-bike battery, for example, went to a shop, an $800 battery that a few months ago was $800 is now 1100 dollars as a result of tariffs.

我可以分享一个昨天的轶事，例如，看一个电动自行车电池，去了一家商店，一个几个月前是800美元的电池，由于关税，现在变成了1100美元。

▶ We're not seeing that 20% increase in the data yet.

我们还没有在数据中看到那20%的增长。

▶ Why not?

为什么没有？

▶ So I think we are actually seeing it.

所以我认为我们实际上看到了。

▶ If you were to decompose the consumer price back a basket between those items that have high import content, those that have low import content, we are seeing a big acceleration in inflation in the high import content items.

如果你将消费者价格指数分解回一个篮子，区分那些进口含量高的物品和进口含量低的物品，我们确实看到高进口含量物品的通胀大幅加速。

 00:21:00

▶ In past months, we saw the household furnishings rise, recreational goods rise.

在过去几个月，我们看到家庭# furnishings #（家居用品）上涨，# recreational #（娱乐）商品上涨。

▶ We've been now beginning to see that in motor vehicle parts, motor vehicle repair.

我们现在已经开始在机动车零部件、机动车维修中看到这一点。

▶ Apparel inflation actually rose pretty robustly this month.

#服装# #通胀#本月实际上相当强劲地上升了。

▶ So it's a it's been a mixed picture.

所以这是一幅好坏参半的景象。

▶ Used cars and trucks, new vehicles have not shown it.

二手车和卡车、新车还没有显示出来。

 00:21:15

▶ In prior months, you had seen some offset from airfares and from services items.

在前几个月，你看到航空票价和服务类项目的一些#抵消#作用。

▶ But we are seeing it.

但我们的确看到了。

▶ What has not happened, I think, is the scary large inflation prints that we were all worried about.

我认为，没有发生的是我们大家都担心的那种#可怕的#大幅#通胀#数据。

▶ But inflation's at 3% and it's been well above the Fed's target for the past four and a half years.

但#通胀#率在3%，并且在过去四年半里一直远高于美联储的目标。

bilibili 00:21:31

▶ And most of the recent increase is being driven by tariffs.

而最近的大部分增长是由关税驱动的。

▶ So you in your notes that you share with us say that there's still scope for the first round of tariffs to have a further impact on inflation in the near term.

所以你在与我们分享的笔记中说，第一轮关税在短期内仍有进一步影响通胀的空间。

▶ What kind of impact that?

那会是哪种影响？

▶ So I think that that comes from our view on on PPI data.

所以我认为这来自于我们对PPI数据的看法。

▶ So early this week, yesterday we got the CPI and again, that was actually weaker than anticipated and we looked at the headlines and the core.

所以本周初，昨天我们得到了CPI数据，再次，它实际上弱于预期，我们看了标题数据和核心数据。

▶ But when you look at the underlying details, there's a lot of pipeline in freight inflation that's coming through the through with that.

但当你查看#底层#细节时，有很多#货运# #通胀#的传导效应正在显现。

▶ And so I would expect you actually continue to see an acceleration in core inflation through the end of this year.

因此我预计，实际上到今年年底，你会继续看到核心#通胀#的#加速#。

▶ Now, for the Fed and as we look forward to monetary policy next week, a lot of Fed officials have taken the view of, look, we're going to look through a lot of this tariff driven inflation.

现在，对于美联储以及我们展望下周的货币政策，许多美联储官员持这样的观点：听着，我们会忽略掉很多这种由关税驱动的通胀。

bilibili 00:22:11

▶ And as long as it is isolated to items like core goods that we think that it's tariffs, we can still cut rates.

只要它#孤立#于像核心商品这类我们认为是关税造成的项目，我们仍然可以降息。

▶ And of course, for the Fed, there are dual mandate central banks.

当然，对美联储来说，它是#双重# #使命#的中央银行。

▶ So it's not just the inflation picture, what's happening in the labor market.

所以不仅仅是#通胀#状况，劳动力市场的情况也很重要。

▶ It matters a lot there.

这方面非常重要。

▶ And so the fact that we got a weak jobs report last Friday, big downward revisions earlier this week means them in a different direction in the near term.

因此，上周五我们得到了疲弱的就业报告，本周早些时候的大幅向下修正，意味着他们在短期内走向了不同的方向。

bilibili 00:22:31

▶ What I don't understand is, though, if we are in a higher tariff rate environment that's going to exist going forward, why is it we can look forward to it?

但我不明白的是，如果我们处于一个未来将持续存在的更高关税税率的环境中，为什么我们还能期待它呢？

▶ Because it does mean higher prices.

因为它确实意味着更高的价格。

▶ Right.

对。

▶ And either companies have to eat it or we have to eat it.

要么公司必须承受它，要么我们必须承受它。

▶ So it does.

所以确实如此。

▶ But the theory is that it's been inflation ticks higher in the near term.

但理论是，它会使#通胀#在短期内小幅走高。

bilibili 00:22:50

▶ Yes.

是的。

▶ But if it's a one time price increase, it should not be a sustained inflation.

但如果这是一次性的价格上涨，它不应该是#持续的# #通胀#。

▶ Oh, I see what you're saying.

哦，我明白你的意思了。

▶ Know there's a word for that.

知道有一个词来形容那个。

▶ There's a word for that.

有一个词来形容那个。

▶ The word is transitory.

那个词就是#暂时性的#。

▶ I'm not going to just making sure we're after I I'm going to answer having a forecast in 2020.

我不会...只是想确保我们...我接下来要回答的是关于2020年的预测。

▶ In 2021.

在2021年。

bilibili 00:23:05

▶ I'm trying to avoid the transitory language.

我试图避免使用#暂时性的#这种说法。

▶ But yes.

但是，是的。

▶ Yeah.

是的。

▶ The idea is that it is a one time price shock.

其理念是，这是一次性的价格冲击。

▶ Now it's going to take a while to play out.

现在需要一段时间才能完全显现。

▶ But I think from the data we see, this is going to last into 2026.

但我认为从我们看到的数据来看，这将持续到2026年。

▶ And so even if it is a one time or quote unquote transitory, it takes a while to play out.

所以，即使它是一次性的或所谓的#暂时性的#，也需要一段时间才能完全显现。

bilibili 00:23:23

▶ Hey, on the labor market, going back to fundamental shifts that we've seen in the last few months during this administration and Carole's mention of that weak jobs report, do we need to think about labor completely differently with immigration shutdown in this country?

嘿，关于劳动力市场，回到我们在过去几个月本届政府期间看到的基本转变，以及卡罗尔提到的那个疲弱的就业报告，在这个国家移民关闭的情况下，我们是否需要完全重新思考劳动力问题？

▶ Yes, and absolutely.

是的，绝对需要。

▶ How we think about those monthly jobs prints has changed dramatically over the past two years.

我们如何看待那些月度就业数据在过去两年发生了巨大变化。

 00:23:42

▶ I think if you go back two years ago when we were having the surge in immigration, 200,000 plus was the norm for payroll gains.

我认为，如果你回溯到两年前，当我们移民激增时，20万以上是 payroll gains（非农就业人数增长）的常态。

▶ Now, some of those have been revised

现在，其中一些已经被修正了。

▶ But in this current environment, given demographics, given immigration flows, 50,000 is probably a perfectly fine number to keep the unemployment rate steady.

但在当前环境下，考虑到人口结构，考虑到#移民#流动，5万可能是一个完全可以保持失业率稳定的数字。

 00:24:00

▶ And so I think we should revamp how we think about things.

因此，我认为我们应该#革新#我们的思维方式。

▶ But the uncertainty around that suggest that we should focus on other things.

但围绕此事的不确定性表明，我们应该关注其他事情。

▶ The unemployment rate matters more than payroll gains matter.

失业率比# payroll #（非农就业人数）增长更重要。

▶ Things like the quits rate, job openings, unemployed.

诸如离职率、职位空缺、失业人数等。

▶ These measures of labour market slack are the most important indicators for assessment of the labour market.

这些衡量劳动力市场#松弛度#的指标是#评估#劳动力市场的最重要指标。

bilibili 00:24:16

▶ And although they haven't weakened a lot, they've started to show some early signs of modest weakening.

尽管它们没有大幅减弱，但它们已经开始显示出一些#适度#减弱的早期迹象。

▶ Just real quickly, they're going to kill me.

真的很快，他们要催死我了。

▶ 20 seconds.

20秒。

▶ What should the Fed do?

美联储应该怎么做？

▶ Should they be cutting rates?

他们应该降息吗？

▶ I think they will cut rates by 25 basis points next week.

我认为他们下周将降息25个基点。

▶ Do you think that's right?

你认为这正确吗？

▶ I think they should.

我认为他们应该。

▶ Given the change in the risk assessment.

鉴于风险#评估#的变化。

▶ Where I disagree with the market pricing is more next year.

我与市场定价意见不同的地方更多是在明年。

▶ The market has the Fed continue to cut rates below 3% next year.

市场预期美联储明年将继续降息至3%以下。

▶ We don't see an economy that necessitates that.

我们没有看到需要这样做的经济状况。

▶ Now, if you get a different reaction function because there's a turnover in Fed personnel, yeah, we might have to revisit that view.

现在，如果因为美联储人员的#更替#而得到不同的反应函数，是的，我们可能不得不重新审视那个观点。

 00:24:46

很棒的内容。

但我确实想向你通报一个正在发展的故事，消息来源告诉彭博社，由大卫·埃里森（David Ellison）于八月份接管的派拉蒙天空之舞（Paramount Skydance）好莱坞工作室，据称正准备竞购竞争对手华纳兄弟探索公司（Warner Brothers Discovery）。

现在，我们看到华纳兄弟探索公司股价飙升26%。

当然，今天我们要谈论的是查理·柯克。

 Your reaction to the shooting and Killing of him?

您对他遭枪击身亡一事有何反应？

 00:26:51

 Well, first and foremost, to remember all those lost on 911 and the brave first responders and civilians who stepped in.

嗯，首先且#最重要的#，是纪念所有在911事件中逝去的人，以及那些挺身而出的勇敢的急救人员和平民。

 And, of course, we have another somber note today as we reflect on the killing of Charlie Kirk.

当然，今天当我们反思查理·柯克被杀一事时，又增添了一个沉痛的音符。

▶ And I start from a place of great sympathy, sympathy for his family, his spouse and children, and that turn to political violence that we have seen in this country in a way that we should not be experiencing.

我首先怀着极大的同情，同情他的家人、他的配偶和孩子，以及我们在这个国家所目睹的那种转向政治暴力的趋势，这是我们本不应经历的。

bilibili 00:27:26

▶ And it is not acceptable.

这是不可接受的。

▶ We should not disagree and be disagreeable to the extent of taking people's lives away.

我们不应因意见分歧而发展到夺走他人生命的地步。

▶ You can have political divisions.

你可以有政治分歧。

▶ You can have divides.

你可以有隔阂。

▶ But violent actions.

但暴力行为。

▶ Murder is never, never acceptable.

谋杀是永远、永远不可接受的。

▶ And yet it happens.

然而它却发生了。

▶ And the attacks have happened quite a bit in the last few years.

而在过去几年里，这类袭击事件发生了不少。

bilibili 00:27:52

▶ We heard some of them from Carol.

我们从卡罗尔那里听到了一些。

▶ The Minnesota legislature leaders, Steve Scalise, Nancy Pelosi's husband, attacked, of course, the attack on President Trump's life twice last year, including that assassination attempt in

明尼苏达州立法机构领导人、史蒂夫·斯卡利斯、南希·佩洛西的丈夫遭到袭击，当然，还有去年对特朗普总统生命的两次袭击，包括那次暗杀企图。

▶ What is the right way to turn down the temperature in the United States right now?

目前在美国，降低紧张局势的正确方式是什么？

 00:28:10

▶ I think the right way to turn down the temperature is to treat one another as neighbors, treat one another as people who belong in the same community.

我认为正确的降温方式是彼此以邻居相待，彼此视为属于同一个社区的人。

▶ America is great because we have origins that span the globe, but we come here because we can achieve great things.

美国的伟大之处在于我们的起源#遍及#全球#，但我们来到这里是因为我们能成就伟业。

▶ And they always happen when we work together.

而当我们共同努力时，伟业总会发生。

 00:28:33

▶ And so I say that to every person with a platform, a title, a place where you can influence others to today commit, recommit to moving forward with rhetoric, that is it going to inspire action like violence in our communities?

因此，我要对每一个拥有平台、头衔、能够影响他人的人说，今天要承诺、重新承诺以言辞推动前进，这种言辞会激励我们社区中像暴力这样的行动吗？

▶ We yes, have things that we don't agree on paths ideologically paths based on.

是的，我们在基于#意识形态#的道路上存在分歧。

▶ In our belief that might be different than those of other people in our community.

在我们的信仰上，可能与我们社区中的其他人不同。

 00:29:05

 I, as a Democrat, do not need to be mad to be angry at a Republican.

我，作为一名#民主党人#，不需要因为对共和党人生气而发怒。

 We can disagree on the substance, but at the end of the day, come back and realize we're in the same mission for the same country and in advancing leadership in the world.

我们可以在实质问题上存在分歧，但最终，要回过头来认识到我们为了同一个国家、为了在世界上推进领导力而肩负着同样的使命。

 And that's what I'm going to commit to and encourage others to look inwardly and see how they can do that today.

这就是我要承诺去做的，并鼓励其他人内省，看看他们今天如何能做到这一点。

 00:29:27

 Congressman Elmo, with all due respect, that political discourse, that productive technology conversations, excuse me and debates, when you don't agree with someone's thoughts on something, it doesn't seem to happen anymore.

埃尔莫众议员，恕我直言，那种政治话语，那种富有成效的技术对话，抱歉，是辩论，当你不同意某人对某事的想法时，似乎不再发生了。

 Well, we have to do better.

嗯，我们必须做得更好。

 I'm not in a, you know, suggest that we have found the way to resolve our conflicts in the best way.

我并不是在，你知道，暗示我们已经找到了以最佳方式解决冲突的方法。

 00:29:55

 But I'll tell you what isn't and will never be acceptable, and that is violence.

但我要告诉你什么是不可接受且永远不可接受的，那就是暴力。

▶ And so we have an extra burden today to keep trying to keep working towards meeting the ideals that I know that we share.

因此，我们今天肩负着额外的#负担#，要不断努力，不断朝着实现我知道我们共同拥有的理想而努力。

▶ So let me ask you about geopolitics, because you are vice ranking member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

那么让我问问你关于地缘政治的问题，因为你是众议院外交事务委员会的副主席。

bilibili 00:30:15

▶ We did have a big story today about Poland seeking a consultation with NATO's specifically and NATO's powers after shooting down drones that crossed into its territory during Russia's latest massive air strike on Ukraine.

我们今天确实有一个大新闻，关于波兰在俄罗斯最近对乌克兰的大规模空袭中击落侵入其领土的无人机后，寻求与北约具体及北约 powers（权力/成员国）进行磋商。

▶ They called the incursion and, quote, act of aggression.

他们称此次#入侵#为，引号，#侵略#行为。

▶ What are you hearing from U.S. officials and the White House on this?

你从美国官员和白宫那里听到了什么关于此事的消息？

bilibili 00:30:35

▶ Well, look, I go back to the president's summit with Vladimir Putin, his deadlines that weren't met.

嗯，你看，我要回溯到总统与弗拉基米尔·普京的#峰会#，以及他那些未得到遵守的最后期限。

▶ Vladimir Putin is testing limits.

弗拉基米尔·普京正在试探底线。

▶ He is testing our resolve and our commitment to NATO and to our European allies.

他正在考验我们对北约（注：原文NAITO应为NATO）的决心和承诺，以及对我们的欧洲盟友的承诺。

▶ And the way we must respond is by recommitting to Ukraine's fight against Vladimir Putin's aggression that has only become harsher, has been more aggressive against civilians, and is seeking to undermine our strength and our alliances in Europe.

而我们必须回应的方式是重新承诺支持乌克兰对抗弗拉基米尔·普京的侵略，这种侵略只会变得更加残酷，对平民更加具有攻击性，并且试图削弱我们在欧洲的力量和联盟。

bilibili 00:31:14

▶ And so I need to hear from the White House, and we need to see a commitment to Ukraine an even stronger way.

因此，我需要听到白宫的回应，我们需要看到以更强大的方式对乌克兰的承诺。

▶ What does that commitment look like?

这种承诺是什么样的？

▶ Look, that commitment goes to certainly supporting them militarily and continuing to provide the support they need on that end.

看，这种承诺当然包括在军事上支持他们，并继续在这方面提供他们所需的支持。

▶ But beyond that, when you have rhetoric that is uncertain about our commitments to NATO, that helps to fuel Vladimir Putin's test, and he certainly wants us to have uncertainty in our relationship with Ukraine, our relationship with Europe and continuing to see an inconsistency from this administration provides some of that continued motivation for Putin to try actions like he did in Poland.

但除此之外，当有言辞对我们对北约（注：原文Natal应为NATO）的承诺表示不确定时，那会助长弗拉基米尔·普京的试探，他当然希望我们与乌克兰的关系、与欧洲的关系存在不确定性，而持续看到本届政府的不一致，为普京提供了持续的动力去尝试像他在波兰那样的行动。

bilibili 00:32:07

▶ All right.

好的。

▶ So there are definitely geopolitical concerns with everything that's going on overseas.

所以，对于#海外#正在发生的一切，肯定存在地缘政治方面的担忧。

▶ The other thing we think about a lot is security and independence when it comes to energy.

我们经常考虑的另一件事是能源方面的安全与独立。

▶ You're a member of the House Committee on Science, Space and Technology, ranking member of the Subcommittee on Environment.

你是众议院科学、空间和技术委员会的成员，环境小组委员会的首席成员。

 00:32:22

▶ Wind power is something that has been singled out several times critically by President Trump.

风能是特朗普总统多次单独提出批评的东西。

▶ Talk to us about how important offshore wind is to the state of Rhode Island.

和我们谈谈海上风电对罗德岛州有多重要。

▶ It's very important.

它非常重要。

▶ Offshore wind is incredibly important to Rhode Island.

海上风电对罗德岛州非常重要。

▶ We have a project that received a stop work order, Revolution Wind, that was set to power 350,000 households between Rhode Island and Connecticut.

我们有一个收到了停工令的项目，“革命之风”（Revolution Wind），该项目原本计划为罗德岛州和康涅狄格州的35万户家庭供电。

 00:32:50

▶ And unfortunately, this stop work order not only imperils our solution to the challenges of climate change, our work to lower energy costs, but it also puts people out of work.

不幸的是，这个停工令不仅危及我们应对气候变化挑战的解决方案，我们降低能源成本的工作，而且还让人们失业。

▶ You know, we talk about the the all of the above strategy.

你知道，我们谈论的是“全盘 above”战略。

▶ The all of the above strategy has to include wind.

“全盘 above”战略必须包括风能。

▶ And this project was 80% complete, 45 out of 65 turbines in the water and you're sending people home.

而这个项目已经完成了80%，65个涡轮机中有45个已经下水，现在却要让人们回家。

 00:33:19

▶ That's the president's actions, not creating jobs, taking them away.

这是总统的行动，不是在创造就业，而是在夺走就业。

▶ And so we're continuing to work very aggressively across the aisle with Republican colleagues as well, to speak to the wisdom of continuing this project.

因此，我们继续非常积极地与共和党同事跨党派合作，以说明继续这个项目的明智之处。

▶ Well, let me just ask you something, Congressman.

嗯，让我问你点事，#众议员#。

▶ Governors in the U.S. Northeast are considering dropping resistance to natural gas pipelines and other fossil fuel projects in the hopes they can convince the president to allow those offshore wind farms to move forward.

美国东北部的州长们正在考虑放弃对天然气管道和其他化石燃料项目的抵制，希望以此说服总统允许那些海上风电场继续进行。

 00:33:46

▶ Do you agree with that possible tradeoff?

你同意这种可能的交换吗？

▶ If that's what needs to be done to save wind farms in your own home state?

如果这是为了拯救你家乡州的风电场而需要做的事情？

🎧 Well, unfortunately, we've seen this is a mysteriously, you know, troubling.

嗯，不幸的是，我们已经看到这是一个#神秘的#，你知道，令人不安的。

🎧 Turn.

转变。

🎧 However, when you know the president has been at the negotiation table, this is something he has impressed upon.

然而，当你知道总统一一直在#谈判#桌前时，这是他强调过的事情。

 00:34:08

🎧 And, you know, I'm committed to wind.

而且，你知道，我致力于风能。

🎧 But again, if there is going to be an all of the above strategy, it has to include when not excluded.

但再次强调，如果要有一个“全盘 above”战略，它必须包括风能而不是排除它。

🎧 And so I know that the governors are making very tough decisions.

所以我知道州长们正在做出非常艰难的决定。

🎧 I think in the long term, renewables are going to be the path that achieve our cost objectives and our climate objectives.

我认为从长远来看，可再生能源将是实现我们成本目标和气候目标的道路。

 00:34:28

🎧 But this has certainly been part of what the President has put forward when he has engaged these governors alongside members of his administration.

但这确实是总统在与这些州长以及他的政府成员接触时提出的部分内容。

🎧 Okay.

好的。

▶ So let's talk about engagement of those governors.

那么我们来谈谈与那些州长的#接触#。

▶ He did say working alongside Republicans here, working across the aisle to come to a resolution here.

他确实说过在这里与共和党人合作，跨#党派#合作以达成解决方案。

▶ Has the president actually agreed to discuss offshore wind with the governors of those northeast states, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts?

总统是否真的同意与那些#东北部#州，即罗德岛州、康涅狄格州和马萨诸塞州的州长讨论海上风电？

 00:34:54

▶ I know that the conversations are ongoing with members of the administration.

我知道与政府成员的对话正在#进行中#。

▶ I don't know of a specific commitment from the president, but the facts are clear.

我不知道总统有具体的承诺，但事实很清楚。

▶ We need wind.

我们需要风能。

▶ And I'm hopeful that the president and his cabinet members see the wisdom in continuing a project like Revolution, when it is important to my state of Rhode Island.

我抱有希望，总统和他的内阁成员能看到继续推进像“革命之风”这样的项目的明智之处，因为它对我的罗德岛州很重要。

 00:35:16

▶ But it's also a linchpin to growing the industry across the Eastern seaboard, including in places like Virginia and including in Connecticut and Massachusetts.

但它也是在整个东海岸，包括弗吉尼亚等地，以及包括康涅狄格州和马萨诸塞州在内，发展该行业的关键。

▶ So I want to continue to see progress

所以我希望继续看到进展。

▶ And I know those governors are working vigorously to get to the table.

而且我知道那些州长正在积极努力地争取坐到谈判桌前。

▶ All right.

好的。

▶ So appreciate your time on this Thursday.

感谢您在这个周四抽出时间。

🎧 Well, this week, Apple introduced its first new AirPods pro model in three years, adding new health tracking features.

本周苹果推出了三年来首款新AirPods Pro，新增健康追踪功能。

🎧 The new device will feature a heart rate monitor allowing the earbuds to work with an iPhone to track a wearers pulse and measure calories burned during exercise.

新款耳机配备心率监测器，可与iPhone配合追踪佩戴者脉搏并测算运动消耗卡路里。

 00:37:27

🎧 A tip.

温馨提示。

🎧 Our next guest knows a lot about the relationship between technology and wearables specifically and how it all plays into the health world.

下一位嘉宾深谙科技特别是可穿戴设备与健康领域的关联。

🎧 Let's get to the Businessweek Women's Health segment, where we focus on key issues and developing technologies impacting the present and future of women's health around the world.

现在进入商业周刊女性健康专题环节，我们将聚焦影响全球女性健康现状与未来的关键议题及发展中的技术。

 00:37:42

🎧 We've got with us Rosalind Picard, Doctor of Science, Grover and Herman, professor of health sciences and technology at the MIT Media Lab, also director of Affective Computing Research.

现场邀请到罗莎琳德·皮卡德博士，麻省理工学院媒体实验室健康科学与技术Grover and Herman讲席教授，情感计算研究中心主任。

🎧 She joins us from Cambridge, Massachusetts.

她在马萨诸塞州剑桥市参与连线。

▶ Affective Computing, What is it?

什么是情感计算？

▶ It's such a pleasure to be here with you as active computing with an A is defined as computing that relates to arises from or deliberately influences emotion.

非常荣幸参与节目。情感计算（Affective Computing）被定义为与情感相关、源于情感或有意影响情感的计算技术。

bilibili 00:38:10

▶ Wait.

请稍等。

▶ Okay, so wait, walk us through that.

请您详细解释一下。

▶ So it's in use today.

这项技术目前已有实际应用。

▶ And how is it, you know, what is it enabling us to do?

它具体能帮助我们实现什么？

▶ Lots of things.

应用非常广泛。

▶ It's an area started here at the MIT Media Lab decades ago, and initially it was about giving computers the skills of emotional intelligence.

这是数十年前MIT媒体实验室开创的领域，最初旨在赋予计算机情感智能。

▶ Then we started learning that a lot of people could use better understanding about emotion and also working with many people who had difficulty understanding others emotions as well as their own.

后来我们发现许多人需要更好地理解情绪，还包括那些难以理解他人及自身情绪的人群。

bilibili 00:38:38

▶ We started building wearable technologies that could monitor physiological changes in our body.

我们开始研发能监测人体#生理#变化的可穿戴技术。

▶ Even when we were leaving the lab, not just here hooked up to racks of equipment.

即使离开实验室环境也能使用，而非仅限连接设备机架的场景。

▶ Then those physiological changes were documented, obviously for research.

这些#生理#变化会被记录用于研究。

▶ But in terms of helping others understand what a person is feeling or experiencing, how does that work?

但如何帮助他人理解一个人的感受或体验呢？

 00:39:01

▶ So obviously, emotions are very personal and very private.

显然情绪是极其个人化和私密的。

▶ So we don't do any of that sharing of it without people's fully informed prior consent.

因此我们绝不会在未获得当事人充分知情#同意#前分享这些数据。

▶ However, there are a lot of times when people are confused about their own feelings.

但很多时候人们会对自身感受感到困惑。

▶ For example, a person's heart may be racing and they may think that they have a cardiac condition, but in fact it may be their fear of a cardiac condition that is causing the heart to race.

例如某人可能出现心悸，可能认为自己患有心脏病，但实际上可能是对心脏病的恐惧引发了心悸。

 00:39:24

▶ So the wearables let you collect data in the real world.

可穿戴设备使得在现实世界中收集数据成为可能。

▶ In fact, we built the first wearables here in the Media Lab, at least the first ones I know of, that could monitor the cardiac information and the autonomic nervous system information like your flight fight or flight response.

事实上我们在媒体实验室打造了首批能监测心脏信息和自主神经系统信息（如战斗或逃跑反应）的可穿戴设备。

▶ So walk us through, because this is, as you said, wearable computers at MIT.

请详细说明，正如您所言这是MIT的可穿戴计算机技术。

 00:39:46

▶ You've been working on this for over two decades.

您已从事该领域研究二十余年。

▶ Walk us through a little bit of kind of where you guys are, how you were thinking about it a couple of decades ago versus kind of where we are today and the progress you've made and how it's evolved in terms of what wearables can do when it comes to really assessing our health.

请谈谈你们的发展历程：二十年前的构想与当前成就的对比，以及可穿戴设备在健康评估领域功能的演进。

▶ In the beginning, we were interested in emotions that could help make people's experiences better, say, and a learning experience.

最初我们关注能改善人们体验的情绪，例如在学习体验中。

 00:40:15

▶ Is the learner frustrated or bored?

学习者是否感到挫败或无聊？

▶ Or usability?

或是可用性方面？

▶ Is this software driving users crazy or is it a great experience and automobile driving?

这款软件是让用户抓狂还是带来绝佳体验？包括#汽车#驾驶场景。

▶ Two Is this situation on the streets stressing out people?

当前道路状况是否让人压力倍增？

▶ Could we change the situation and have lower driver's stress?

能否通过改变状况来降低驾驶员压力？

▶ So we started by building wired systems that could leave the lab.

我们最初构建了可离开实验室的有线系统。

 00:40:37

▶ And then later we built versions with small wireless sensors that could go on jewelry.

后来开发出配备微型无线传感器的版本，可嵌入#珠宝#佩戴。

▶ And in research, we built the first wristwatch that could monitor simultaneously signals like electrical activity and PPG.

研究中我们制造出首款能#同步#监测电活动信号和光电容积脉搏波（PPG）的腕表。

▶ The photo, plus this tiger feed that's used to extract heart rate today.

这种技术如今被用于#提取#心率数据。

▶ And also, you mentioned the Apple thing.

您刚才提到苹果的产品。

 00:40:59

▶ We built some of the first earbuds that actually worked with an iPhone that measured heart rate with consumer quality data and published that I believe it was back in 2009.

我们早在2009年就开发出首批与iPhone配合、能测量心率并达到消费级数据标准的耳塞设备，并发表了相关成果。

▶ Well, you know, I love what you are talking about.

您讲述的内容非常精彩。

▶ And I think about as a woman, as a mother of a daughter, that when it comes to women's health specifically, I feel like there is a lot that's not paid attention to.

作为女性，作为女儿的母亲，我认为在女性健康领域尤其存在许多被忽视的问题。

 00:41:23

▶ And obviously there's been studies and research that really bear this out.

显然已有研究证实这一点。

▶ So I'm curious about how technology or wearables can improve the health and health outcome and knowledge in assessment when it comes to women specifically.

因此我想了解，科技或可穿戴设备如何能特别改善女性健康水平、健康结果及评估认知。

▶ Thanks for asking about that.

感谢提出这个问题。

▶ Women have definitely been left out of a lot of health studies.

女性确实被排除在许多健康研究之外。

▶ I learned that it's less than ten years ago that the National Institute of Health started even requiring scientists to include female mice and rats in their studies before they were sticking with just the males to avoid the complexity of the female system.

据我所知，不到十年前美国国立卫生研究院才开始要求科学家在研究中纳入雌性小鼠和大鼠，此前他们为回避雌性系统复杂性仅使用雄性个体。

 00:41:58

▶ The opportunities are huge for health with wearables and especially for women's health.

可穿戴设备为健康领域尤其是女性健康带来巨大机遇。

▶ There are so many conditions that are different for women than for men, and they're not only vastly understudied, but the kind of data is very under sampled.

许多病症在女性身上的表现与男性不同，这些不仅研究严重不足，数据采集也极不充分。

▶ It's like asking somebody what they feel or what they experience instead of actually counting the way that the pain each month is affecting their life or the way that the disruptions at night are affecting their sleep.

就像仅询问主观感受，而非实际量化每月疼痛如何影响生活，或夜间不适如何影响睡眠。

 00:42:30

▶ And now we can do those kinds of measurements with wearables.

如今我们可通过可穿戴设备实现这类测量。

▶ So what is the right technology, in your view, that people and specifically women need to adopt in order to have this better understanding?

您认为人们（特别是女性）需要采用何种合适技术来获得更深入认知？

▶ Well, I'm not going to be promoting a particular product here today at the Media Lab.

今天在媒体实验室我不会推广特定产品。

▶ Our job is to make possible those future things.

我们的职责是实现那些未来的可能性。

 00:42:53

▶ We're building the things that are pre product that are, in some cases, decades ahead of what will be out there.

我们正在构建超前当前市场数十年的预研产品。

▶ Sometimes we're also using commercial systems to gather data.

有时也使用商用系统收集数据。

▶ So one example of that is we is a smartwatch that collects autonomic data and movement data, and we're looking at the structure of what is enabling people to sleep better.

例如我们使用智能手表收集自主神经数据和运动数据，研究有助于改善睡眠的结构性因素。

 00:43:16

▶ Sleep is such a huge problem and it affects women differently than men, and we need to help people fix it.

睡眠是个重大课题，其对女性的影响不同于男性，我们需要帮助人们解决这个问题。

▶ So let me ask this question in a different way, which is when you look out at the products that are available with the context of what you've been working on for years at the MIT Media Lab, what has been harnessed and sort of what is still in the pipeline, what is still being research like?

请允许我换种方式提问：结合您在MIT媒体实验室多年的研究，当前市面产品已实现哪些技术？哪些仍在研发中？哪些还处于研究阶段？

▶ Like what percentage of the opportunity that you think is out there has actually been achieved with the products that are on the market right now?

您认为现有市场产品实现了多少潜在可能性？

 00:43:45

▶ Where are we in that timeline?

我们处于哪个发展阶段？

▶ Oh, probably about 1% of it.

大约实现了1%。

▶ There's so much to do.

还有大量工作待完成。

▶ Yeah, there's a huge amount of stuff happening here that is not out there yet.

是的，我们这里有许多尚未面世的重大突破。

▶ As you saw, just like even from the pulse rate and earbuds, you know, where did that take you 17 years for for Apple to get to there now.

正如您所见，仅就心率监测耳塞而言，苹果花了17年才达到现有水平。

▶ So actually, other companies did it ten years ago.

实际上其他公司十年前就已实现。

🎧 So I don't know why they're just doing it now, but there are a lot of new innovations.

不知为何他们现在才跟进，但当前已有许多创新。

🎧 For example, my colleague John and I, governor's leading a group here to revolutionize the early detection of breast cancer and make it really comfortable and easy to monitor changes to avoid the kinds of nightmares of detecting cancer changing very fast between screens or people not going to get a mammogram or get screened because it's uncomfortable or it's expensive.

例如我和同事约翰正领导团队革命性改进乳腺癌早期检测技术，使其更舒适便捷地监测变化，避免因筛查间隔期癌变快速进展或因不适感、高费用导致拒绝乳腺X光检查的噩梦。

🎧 So she has built conformable technology that shapes to the breast and allows people to get, you know, clinically significant great data without the discomfort of, you know, being pancaked.

因此她开发了贴合胸部的#舒适型技术#，让人们能够获取具有临床意义的高质量数据，而无需承受被压成饼状的不适感。

🎧 Unbelievable.

难以置信。

🎧 And it is really interesting to see maybe how technologies we talked about kind of the health gap when it comes to men versus women, you know, whether or not technology can really help us and wearables.

观察技术如何弥合男女健康差距确实很有趣，无论是技术本身还是可穿戴设备能否真正帮助我们。

🎧 Fascinating stuff.

🎧 The lending company Klarna actually made its stock debut just yesterday.

股价较发行价上涨近15%。

🎧 It rose nearly 15% from its IPO price.

今年早些时候还有稳定币提供商Circle。

 00:47:51

🎧 Then you also have other stablecoin providers like Circle earlier this year as well, designed for software platform Figma.

以及软件平台Figma。

🎧 So you really have a lot of momentum going right now as far as what's going on in that type of space and particularly in the crypto area as well.

当前该领域——尤其是加密领域——发展势头强劲。

🎧 Yeah, Gemini, the Winklevoss a crypto exchange.

🎧 Then outside of crypto, even more IPOs on the horizon, BlackRock Coffee Legions and then via the rideshare app Yes expected IPO too introduce a new issue this is probably the market for the economy too.

下周还有票务转售公司StubHub上市——当前市场创新高，正是发行新股的良机。

 00:48:38

▶ Yeah yeah Centene is another one that you're watching that's moving the ticker is C and C so this is a health insurer.

▶ It was the top performer in the S&P 500 earlier today.

早盘曾是标普500表现最佳成分股。

▶ If you're looking at the movie function now, it's in the top three behind synopsis in Warner Brothers.

目前位列涨幅榜前三，仅次于华纳兄弟。

▶ But it actually reaffirmed its annual earnings outlook that it actually had already issued in July.

该公司重申了7月发布的年度#盈利# #展望#。

 00:48:59

▶ So it did reaffirm that.

确已#重申#预期。

▶ It also gave positive views on Medicare star ratings, and it said it expects cost improvements in its Medicaid business.

虽现亮点，但结合今日上涨前的表现来看，今年仍非常艰难。

▶ Well, not a tough year for Oracle.

背景：披露强劲云需求数据，加之《华尔街日报》报道其与OpenAI达成3000亿美元协议。

🎧 But if you're looking today, actually JPMorgan derivatives, Dex, they actually had been crunching numbers on the retail investor side of things.

但今日：摩根大通衍生品部门Dex分析发现散户昨日逢高抛售。

 00:50:32

🎧 So you actually saw retail investors selling aggressively into Oracle's rally yesterday after buying those shares on Monday and Tuesday.

这些散户周一周二买入后，昨日在甲骨文#上涨#时积极卖出。

▶ So you have a bit of a retail story there.

可见散户操作的影响。
