⏮ Cindy, you and I are having regular discussions about the latest news from the White House.

辛迪，你和我经常就白宫的最新消息进行讨论。

 00:07:18

⏮ What do you make of this move?

你怎么看待这一举动？

⏮ Good morning, Sally.

早上好，莎莉。

⏮ Yes, this seems to be a reoccurring theme.

是的，这似乎是一个反复出现的主题。

🎧 It was indeed a stealth move by the White House.

这确实是白宫的一次隐秘行动。

🎧 These tariffs were announced on Friday to take effect on Monday and no one heard about it.

这些关税于周五宣布，周一生效，但没有人听说过。

🎧 No one implementing these tariffs, no one at CBP, the US Customs and Border Protection were prepared for this.

没有人（事先知道要）实施这些关税，美国海关与边境保护局（CBP）也没有人对此有所准备。

 00:07:40

🎧 So it was quite the move and quite a busy weekend trying to understand the complexities of this.

所以这是一个相当大的动作，也是一个相当忙碌的周末，试图理解其中的复杂性。

🎧 And it is complex, Cindy, because sorry to interrupt you because I know time is tight, but I'm just wondering, how do you work out how much a steel aluminium is in your motorbike that you've made and therefore what are you facing in terms of tax on that?

这很复杂，辛迪，因为抱歉打断你，因为我知道时间紧迫，但我在想，你如何计算你制造的摩托车中含有多少钢铁铝，因此你在税收方面面临什么？

🎧 Many companies are trying to understand just that and they're deploying and turning to technology to really trace all of the components of their product back to the origin and understand.

许多公司正试图理解这一点，他们正在部署和求助于技术，以真正追踪其产品所有组件的来源并加以理解。

 00:08:13

🎧 And it's not just understanding the duties, it's understanding where that aluminum and steel came from because many products contain steel and aluminum from multiple sources, multiple countries and understanding that is taking a lot of time and effort.

这不仅仅是理解关税，还要理解这些铝和钢来自哪里，因为许多产品包含来自多个来源、多个国家的钢铁和铝，理解这一点需要花费大量时间和精力。

🎧 In the meantime, if companies don't know where those goods came from, they're forced to pay higher tariffs and then go back and claim them from the government.

与此同时，如果公司不知道这些货物来自哪里，他们就被迫支付更高的关税，然后再向政府申请退还。

🎧 So it's been chaos here for those who are trying to implement the new tariffs and those who are trying to collect it at customs as well.

因此，对于那些试图实施新关税的人以及那些试图在海关征收关税的人来说，这里一片混乱。

 00:08:45

🎧 I was just going to say, I mean, how on earth do customs officials work this out and police this?

我正想说，我的意思是，海关官员到底如何计算和监督这一点？

🎧 It must be extremely difficult.

这一定极其困难。

🎧 Yes, we have seen a lot of fatigue by customs, especially as a lot of the older folks like myself are retiring from customs and moving on in their careers.

是的，我们看到海关人员非常疲惫，尤其是许多像我这样的老员工正从海关退休并在职业生涯中继续前进。

🎧 CBP has been given additional staffing money to bring on some individuals, but it takes time to train those like any other industry.

CBP已获得额外的人员经费来招聘一些人，但像任何其他行业一样，培训这些人需要时间。

 00:09:11

🎧 We are seeing increased enforcement, those funds and those individuals are going into enforcement positions.

我们看到执法力度在加强，这些资金和人员正进入执法岗位。

▶ So they are using the same tools that the trade is using in technology to understand where these goods are coming from.

因此，他们正在使用贸易界使用的相同技术工具来了解这些货物的来源。

▶ And presumably Cindy, you know, the consequences of this is more inflationary pressure in the US.

辛迪，想必你知道，这样做的后果是给美国带来更大的通胀压力。

 00:09:33

▶ It has to be.

必定如此。

▶ Yes, we're seeing the production matrix index is going down, production is going down and it's ironic that it's believed that the US steel industry was on pushing to have these section 232 duties expanded.

是的，我们看到生产矩阵指数在下降，生产在下降，具有讽刺意味的是，据信是美国钢铁业在推动扩大这些232条款关税。

▶ They've seen production decrease since the 232 tariffs and that's because a lot of the products that they produce are reliant on other inputs, other steel from other companies and those individuals in companies who are manufacturing products here are being impacted by the tariffs just like everyone else.

自232关税以来，他们的产量有所下降，这是因为他们生产的许多产品依赖于其他投入，来自其他公司的其他钢材，而那些在这里制造产品的公司中的人也和其他人一样受到关税的影响。

 00:10:08

▶ So it has had a chilling effect, I think, on the economy and will continue to have an impact on the manufacturing industry.

所以我认为，这对经济产生了寒蝉效应，并将继续对制造业产生影响。

▶ Cindy, thank you once again for making sense and explaining what we do know about these latest changes.

辛迪，再次感谢你理清头绪并解释我们对这些最新变化的了解。

▶ I may talk to you again soon.

我可能很快再和你谈。

▶ Who knows?

谁知道呢？

▶ Cindy, thank you so much.

辛迪，非常感谢你。

▶ Thank you.

谢谢。

至高无上的风险是允许公开辩论，让局势恶化并出现对抗。

▶ People who say we will block everything and deep down people who think that it's not all that bad.

那些说我们将阻止一切的人，以及内心深处认为情况没那么糟的人。

bilibili 00:13:23

▶ Monsieur, it is that bad.

先生，情况就是那么糟。

▶ I cannot say this any more clearly.

我不能说得更清楚了。

🎧 Well, let's discuss this with Leo Barrencu, who is senior economist at Oxford Economics based in Paris.

那么，让我们和利奥·巴伦库讨论一下，他是驻巴黎的牛津经济研究院的高级经济学家。

🎧 Leo, good to have you on the programme.

利奥，很高兴您能参加节目。

🎧 Is he right?

他说的对吗？

🎧 Is the Prime Minister right saying that this is a huge risk?

总理说这是一个巨大的风险，对吗？

🎧 How bad is the debt situation in your opinion?

在您看来，债务状况有多糟糕？

 00:13:45

🎧 Yes, well, the debt situation in France has been getting a thing that is really worse for the last couple of years.

是的，嗯，法国的债务状况在过去几年里确实变得越来越糟。

🎧 Even though the effective interest rate on the debt is still rather low, the situation is gradually worsening to the point that debt could become clearly unsustainable in the next few years, given that rates have gone up everywhere and even more so in France.

尽管债务的实际利率仍然相当低，但情况正在逐渐恶化，鉴于各地利率都在上升，尤其是在法国更是如此，债务在未来几年可能会变得明显不可持续。

🎧 So yes, I think it's right to say that the sustainability of French debt is clearly going to be a large problem in the years to come.

所以，是的，我认为可以说法国债务的可持续性显然将成为未来几年的一个大问题。

 00:14:18

▶ Even though crisis, short-term crisis, rise in terms of financing, but it's going to become a larger, larger burden and very quickly so.

尽管危机，短期危机，融资方面的上升，但它将成为一个越来越大的负担，而且速度非常快。

▶ And Leo, France is not alone.

利奥，法国并非个例。

▶ We're seeing the same problem here in the United Kingdom and in many economies around the world where public debt is climbing and the interest to pay on that is also climbing.

我们在英国和世界许多经济体都看到了同样的问题，这些地方的公共债务正在攀升，需要支付的利息也在攀升。

 00:14:39

▶ But this feels a bit like Groundhog Day to me.

但这对我来说感觉有点像《土拨鼠之日》（重复乏味）。

▶ Michelle Barnier was ousted only last year after a very short time in the job trying to do the same thing.

米歇尔·巴尼耶去年才被赶下台，他在任时间很短，试图做同样的事情。

▶ So what do you think will happen this time?

那么您认为这次会发生什么？

▶ Yes, yes, completely.

是的，是的，完全正确。

▶ So I would say France is back in a political crisis mode after like a short period of maybe six months of stability.

所以我想说，法国在经历了大概六个月的短暂稳定期后，又回到了政治危机模式。

 00:15:00

▶ It was kind of a fixed ability because there were never really hard matrices.

这算是一种固定的能力，因为从未真正有过硬性指标。

🎧 So there was never any kind of political backing behind the fiscal consolidation plan that he had put on the table.

所以他摆在桌面上的财政整顿计划从未得到任何形式的政治支持。

🎧 So the shutdown that we are seeing now was bound to happen a sooner or later I think and Bill hasn't really triggered the crisis, he merely accelerated it.

所以我认为我们现在看到的（政府）停摆迟早会发生，比尔并没有真正引发危机，他只是加速了危机。

 00:15:21

🎧 One of the key things maybe with Barnier last year is that this time, President Macron can dissolve the National Assembly and call the snap election if he wants to, which he wasn't able to do when Bani fell in December 2024.

去年巴尼耶事件的关键点之一也许是，这一次，马克龙总统可以解散国民议会并召集提前选举（如果他愿意的话），而他在2024年12月巴尼下台时无法这样做。

🎧 Yeah, but to be fair, President Macron called a snap election not so long ago and that didn't work well for him at all.

是的，但公平地说，马克龙总统不久前召集了一次提前选举，但结果对他完全不利。

🎧 Is he likely to do that again?

他有可能再次这样做吗？

 00:15:41

🎧 I would say it's not likely to that again, but anything can happen.

我想说再次这样做的可能性不大，但任何事情都可能发生。

🎧 I think based on the latest declarations, the president seems reluctant to call for another snap election, as he said, given that the latest polls do not suggest that it would improve as a standing of his party with an parliament, quite the opposite actually.

我认为根据最新的声明，总统似乎不愿意再次呼吁提前选举，正如他所说，鉴于最近的（选举）结果并不表明这会改善他的政党在议会中的地位，实际上恰恰相反。

▶ But there will probably still be strong pressure on him to do so from opposition parties.

但反对党可能仍会对他施加巨大压力要求他这样做。

▶ But I think yes, it's not the most likely scenario.

但我认为，是的，这不是最可能的情况。

▶ It's the most likely scenario that we will see another centuries prime minister, much like Barrow, that we'll try to implement some kind of fiscal consolidation that will be less ambitious, probably than what Barrow had in mind.

最可能的情况是，我们将看到另一位.....总理，很像巴罗，他将尝试实施某种财政整顿，其雄心可能不如巴罗所设想的那样大。

▶ Okay, so it also requires a few questions.

好的，所以这也引出了几个问题。

bilibili 00:16:21

▶ So what you're saying is his plans will be watered down perhaps to sort of get the other politicians on board.

所以你的意思是，他的计划可能会被淡化，以争取其他政客的支持。

▶ But in the meantime, what damage is all this political instability doing to France?

但与此同时，所有这些政治不稳定对法国造成了什么损害？

▶ As I assume, you said interest on the debt is not that high at the moment, but that will go up want it if there is seen to be political instability for some time to come.

据我推测，你说债务的利息目前还不算高，但如果未来一段时间出现政治不稳定，利息就会上升。

▶ Yes, sure.

是的，当然。

▶ I mean, the actual cost of the debt is very, always very slow to go up because it depends on how fast you roll over the debt and the maturity of French debt is quite high.

我的意思是，债务的实际成本上升总是非常缓慢的，因为它取决于你展期债务的速度，而且法国债务的期限相当长。

▶ So even though your financial costs go up, it takes a while to like feed through the rest of the debt.

所以，即使你的财务成本上升，也需要一段时间才能传导到其余债务上。

▶ Yes, as you mentioned, political stability is likely to make financial costs go up and it already did somewhat yesterday.

是的，正如你提到的，政治不稳定很可能导致财务成本上升，昨天已经有所体现。

 If you've just joined us now, let's look at the battle over renewable energy because shares of the world's largest wind farm developer Allsted slumped after the Trump administration halted a major offshore wind project off road island, which was 80% finished.

如果您刚刚加入我们，让我们来看看关于可再生能源的争论，因为全球最大的风电场开发商沃旭能源的股价在特朗普政府叫停了一个已完成80%、位于罗德岛附近的大型海上风电项目后暴跌。

 The Danish firm Allsted is the latest victim of President Trump's pushback on renewable investments.

丹麦公司沃旭能源是特朗普总统反对可再生能源投资的最新受害者。

 00:18:52

 Another massive wind project off New York by Equinole of Norway was cancelled in April.

挪威Equinor公司在纽约附近的另一个大型风电项目也于四月份被取消。

 Despite the shift in policy in the US, though, the direction of travel is clear in the rest of the world where they're pushing ahead with clean energy.

尽管美国的政策发生了转变，但世界其他地区的方向是明确的，他们正在推进清洁能源。

▶ The industry as a consequence is booming.

因此，该行业正在蓬勃发展。

▶ According to the International Energy Agency total investment in energy will hit $3.3 trillion this year.

根据国际能源署的数据，今年能源总投资将达到3.3万亿美元。

 00:19:17

▶ And two-thirds of that money is in renewables with only a third in traditional fossil fuels, oil, gas and coal.

其中三分之二的资金投入可再生能源，只有三分之一投入传统的化石燃料、石油、天然气和煤炭。

▶ Well, let's discuss this theme because one of the other big issues facing the industry is artificial intelligence.

那么，让我们讨论一下这个主题，因为该行业面临的另一个大问题是人工智能。

▶ It is a massive consumer of energy.

它是能源的巨大消耗者。

▶ When we do searches using AI tools, it uses so much more energy than the traditional way we would use online search.

当我们使用人工智能工具进行搜索时，它消耗的能量比我们使用传统在线搜索方式要多得多。

 00:19:48

▶ But used in the right way could AI actually help save energy?

但如果使用得当，人工智能实际上能帮助节约能源吗？

▶ Well, to talk about all of these issues, Rob West, chief executive of Thunder, said energy and energy consultancy based in Tallinn Estonia, welcome to the programme.

那么，为了讨论所有这些问题，我们请来了总部位于爱沙尼亚塔林的能源咨询公司Thunder Said Energy的首席执行官罗伯·韦斯特，欢迎来到节目。

▶ Hello.

你好。

▶ Thank you for having me.

谢谢邀请。

▶ Mr, I mean, there's a lot going on in this space as we've just touched on, but I just want to get your reaction, first of all, to President Trump and the rolling back of some huge renewable projects going on.

先生，我的意思是，正如我们刚才提到的，这个领域发生了很多事情，但我首先想听听您对特朗普总统以及正在进行的撤销一些大型可再生能源项目的反应。

 00:20:18

▶ All stead is the latest victim.

沃旭是最新的受害者。

▶ I mean, this project, it's been overseeing and undergoing, is nearly finished.

我的意思是，这个他们一直在监督和进行的项目几乎已经完成了。

▶ And yet the US has pulled the plug.

然而美国却停止了它。

▶ Yeah, I mean, there's two things going on there.

是的，我的意思是，这里有两件事在发生。

▶ There's a growing debate about the total system cost of integrating renewables into the grid.

关于将可再生能源接入电网的总系统成本，争论日益激烈。

▶ One position in the US administration is that renewables can be like, and this is what they say, a teammate that doesn't show up on game day.

美国政府内部的一种立场是，可再生能源可能像——这是他们的说法——比赛日不出现的队友。

 00:20:49

▶ So the example is that peak load, that absolute peak time in demand in the grid, there are times when actually there's no contribution from wind and solar.

例如，在电网需求的峰值负荷、绝对高峰时段，有时风能和太阳能实际上没有任何贡献。

▶ And so you have to maintain an entire separate system.

因此你必须维持一整套独立的系统。

▶ You don't get rid of what you had before.

你并没有摆脱以前拥有的东西。

▶ You just add something else on top of it.

你只是在它上面又增加了一些东西。

▶ So, you know, I rent an apartment, it's $1,000 a month.

所以，你知道，我租一套公寓，每月1000美元。

 00:21:11

▶ I could rent a second apartment that's $800 a month.

我可以再租一套每月800美元的公寓。

▶ The second apartment is clearly cheaper, but if you end up having to rent both, then clearly the total system costs go up.

第二套公寓显然更便宜，但如果你最终不得不租两套，那么显然总系统成本上升了。

▶ And that can be an issue when you do the modeling around wind-based systems.

当你围绕风力系统进行建模时，这可能是一个问题。

▶ I differentiate between wind and solar.

我区分风能和太阳能。

▶ People like to group them together, so they're very, very similar.

人们喜欢把它们归为一类，所以它们非常非常相似。

 00:21:31

▶ To me, wind and solar, they're like, aster and turnips.

对我来说，风能和太阳能，就像.....芹菜和芜菁。

▶ Yes, in the world of starch is they're both not bred, but they're the commonality ends.

是的，在淀粉的世界里，它们都不是（谷物），但它们的共同点也就到此为止了。

▶ And solar is deflating in a way that is just truly remarkable, and probably not going to be subject to the same scalebacks and setbacks that the wind is to be seen.

太阳能的成本下降方式确实非常显著，并且可能不会遭受风能所面临的那种规模的削减和挫折。

 00:21:49

▶ What you mean by that, solar is deflating.

你这么说是什么意思，太阳能正在“通缩”。

▶ That to me, that's a bit of energy jargon.

这对我来说有点能源行话的味道。

▶ What do you mean by that?

你这是什么意思？

▶ Well, so the costs of solar have halved again in the last five years.

嗯，太阳能的成本在过去五年中又降低了一半。

▶ The costs of wind have actually gone up by 30% to 40%.

风能的成本实际上上涨了30%到40%。

▶ So solar is a semiconductor technology.

所以太阳能是一种半导体技术。

▶ It takes light coming in from the sun and converts it directly into energy.

它接收来自太阳的光并将其直接转化为能量。

 00:22:12

▶ It's the first time, really, in the history of the energy industry, we've been able to generate energy from semiconductors, not from something turning or something burning.

这确实是能源行业历史上第一次能够从半导体产生能量，而不是通过某种东西转动或燃烧。

▶ But when you could have given us the analogy of the flats, the 1,000 or a dollar a month and the $800 a month flats, you just want one, because you want to pay for both.

但是，当你用公寓作类比时，那套每月1000美元和每月800美元的公寓，你只想要一套，因为你不想付两套的钱。

▶ But that's surely every country is facing that scenario when it comes to energy, as they transition from fossil fuels to cleaner energy.

但这肯定是每个国家在能源方面都面临的情况，因为他们正在从化石燃料过渡到更清洁的能源。

 00:22:43

▶ I mean, that is a process we're in, isn't it?

我的意思是，这是我们正在经历的一个过程，不是吗？

▶ Therefore, you have to have both flats, don't you, for a period of time.

因此，在一段时间内，你必须拥有两套公寓，不是吗？

▶ So I think about it more of a period of addition rather than transition.

所以我更倾向于认为这是一个增加的时期，而不是过渡的时期。

▶ And there's different things going on in different countries.

不同国家的情况也不同。

▶ The US has one of the lowest costs of natural gas anywhere in the world.

美国是世界上天然气成本最低的国家之一。

 00:22:59

▶ So the data centers are almost all getting powered by natural gas.

所以数据中心几乎全部由天然气供电。

▶ And you know, we have much higher gas prices and that changes the calculus about total system costs of integrating renewables.

你知道，我们的天然气价格要高得多，这改变了关于整合可再生能源的总系统成本的计算。

▶ But when then solar are different in their cost trajectory.

但风能和太阳能的成本轨迹是不同的。

▶ Sure.

当然。

▶ And in how easily are to back up?

还有它们备份的难易程度如何？

▶ And let's get on to this point of the AI scenario, because we're all, we are covering here on BBC News quite a bit.

现在我们来谈谈人工智能这个话题，因为我们都，我们BBC新闻对此进行了大量报道。

 00:23:22

▶ Just the sheer scale of demand for energy is a consequence of AI.

仅仅是能源需求的巨大规模就是人工智能带来的一个后果。

▶ And yet the world's biggest technology companies are just plowing billions and billions of capital expenditure into AI as we are all wanting this new tech.

然而，世界上最大的科技公司正在向人工智能投入数十亿又数十亿的资本支出，因为我们大家都想要这项新技术。

▶ But how can it be used to help in the energy scenario?

但它如何能用于帮助解决能源问题呢？

▶ Well, there's lots of spaces.

嗯，有很多方面。

 00:23:44

▶ I mean, our energy system is woefully inefficient.

我的意思是，我们的能源系统效率低得可怜。

▶ About 80% of all primary energy gets wasted.

大约80%的所有初级能源都被浪费了。

▶ The average, we produce 60 billion tons of year of stuff on planet Earth.

平均而言，我们在地球上每年生产600亿吨的东西。

▶ And the thermodynamic minimum energy, you know, is about 80% lower than the amount of energy we currently use for that.

而热力学最低能量，你知道，比我们目前为此所使用的能量大约低80%。

▶ So there are great examples in industrial history where new process technologies come along or get invented, maybe a new catalyst, maybe a new electro-winning solvent.

因此，在工业历史上有一些很好的例子，新的工艺技术出现或被发明，也许是一种新的催化剂，也许是一种新的电解溶剂。

 00:24:14

▶ And suddenly, you know, you can see the ability to produce some material, get collapse in cost, collapse in energy intensity, and that benefits everybody.

突然间，你知道，你会看到生产某种材料的能力出现，成本暴跌，能源强度暴跌，这对每个人都有利。

▶ So when are we going to see these shifts as it were?

那么我们什么时候才能看到这些转变呢？

▶ Well, the ones I just said are probably longer term, but already you're seeing some really interesting things in the way we manage our grid.

嗯，我刚才说的那些可能是长期的，但你已经在管理电网的方式中看到一些非常有趣的事情了。

 00:24:36

▶ So yeah, we're talking about power prices before.

所以，是的，我们之前谈到了电价。

▶ Actually, two thirds of what you pay in your power price at home is running the network.

实际上，你在家支付的电费中有三分之二是用于运营电网的。

▶ Because the network is very, very poorly utilized.

因为电网的利用率非常非常低。

▶ It's about 35% utilized.

利用率大约为35%。

▶ Have all these wires that carry the power from where it's generated to where it's used?

所有这些将电力从发电地输送到用电地的电线？

▶ And the average wire is only running at about 35% of its capacity.

而平均每根电线仅以其约35%的容量运行。

 00:24:58

▶ Rob, can I ask you a quick question?

罗布，我能问你一个简短的问题吗？

▶ We nearly had a time.

我们时间快到了。

▶ Are you on holiday in Estonia or are you based there?

你是在爱沙尼亚度假还是定居在那里？

▶ I live here.
