因此，对于那些我们无法找到座位的乘客，我们将退款或给他们提供稍后旅行的机会。

 00:02:30

▶ Of course, not everyone has the option to travel later depending on what they have going in on in their life and why they might be traveling.

当然，并不是每个人都有稍后旅行的选择，这取决于他们的生活安排和旅行原因。

▶ We do know that some of the biggest sticking points in this negotiation have been pay and that uh flight attendants are uh doing work before and after a flight that they're not necessarily uh being uh compensated uh for.

克莱尔，我在想象如果你现在是加拿大航空的旅客，你正准备开始旅行，查看航班是否正常，然后登机前往某地。

▶ CBC senior business correspondent Peter Armstrong is following these developments and he joins us live from Vancouver.

CBC高级商业记者彼得·阿姆斯特朗正在关注这些进展，他从温哥华现场加入我们。

▶ Uh, Peter, what would a strike or lockout mean for the Canadian travel industry?

嗯，彼得，罢工或停工对加拿大旅游业意味着什么？

 00:05:54

▶ Look, it it it it could be devastating for the industry, for the entire economy, frankly.

坦白说，这可能对行业乃至整个经济造成毁灭性打击。

▶ And and it it's it's important to highlight though where we're at in the process, right?

但重要的是要强调我们目前处于什么阶段，对吧？

▶ Well, like it you say things like the strike notice has been issued and lockout notice has been issued and people rightly start to freak out.

就像你说的，罢工通知和停工通知已经发布，人们理所当然地开始恐慌。

▶ It's important to remember they still have all day today, all day Thursday, all day Friday to try to reach a deal and offset this.

重要的是要记住，他们还有今天全天、周四全天、周五全天的时间来尝试达成协议并避免这种情况。

bilibili 00:06:20

⏮ And part of the reason that the stakes are so high is because if they go off this cliff and if they can't reach a deal and they actually get into a point where they're cancelling or blocking flights, that that would be devastating for the airline industry.

风险如此之高的部分原因是，如果他们无法达成协议，真的到了取消或阻止航班的地步，那将对航空业造成毁灭性打击。

⏮ Remember when the Air Canada pilots went on strike?

还记得加拿大航空飞行员罢工的时候吗？

⏮ Uh was that just last year?

那是去年吗？

bilibili 00:06:38

⏮ uh you know the the estimate with on that was that it was costing the economy something like hund00 million a day uh you know the total cost I think was $1.4 4 billion dollars.

你知道，当时的估计是每天给经济造成约1亿美元的损失，总成本我认为是14亿美元。

⏮ Um, you know, but then the trickle on effect of that is enormous.

你知道，但其连锁效应是巨大的。

⏮ You you think about, you know, we're trying to to grow the Canadian economy in spite of the threat of tariffs and trade war from the south.

想想看，尽管面临来自南方的关税和贸易战威胁，我们仍在努力发展加拿大经济。

bilibili 00:07:00

⏮ If you can't have people flying, it's really hard to to be making those business deals, to be moving those tourists, to be getting across the country and growing the economy.

如果人们无法飞行，就很难达成商业交易、运送游客、跨越全国并发展经济。

⏮ the small businesses across the country that are so dependent on travel and tourism and business travel as well.

全国依赖旅行、旅游和商务旅行的小企业也是如此。

▶ Not to mention the chaos this will cause for every other airline and every other way of getting around this country.

更不用说这将给其他航空公司和全国其他交通方式带来的混乱。

bilibili 00:07:22

▶ Uh the stakes are enormously high.

风险非常高。

▶ They pick this time, this busy travel time in the summer for a reason because the stakes are high and it gives both sides a little bit more leverage as they try to get the most out of the deal that they can for their side.

他们选择夏季这个繁忙的旅行时间是有原因的，因为风险高，这给双方在谈判中争取最大利益时增加了筹码。

▶ Uh but as I say, I think it's really important to just remember this is part of a negotiation.

但正如我所说，重要的是要记住这是谈判的一部分。

bilibili 00:07:41

▶ The threat of a strike and the strike notice, these are all part of that.

罢工威胁和罢工通知都是其中的一部分。

▶ Um and and you you have to think and you have to hope that these two sides will still find a way to come to an agreement before they actually bring the whole house toppling down.

你必须思考并希望双方仍能找到办法在真正摧毁一切之前达成协议。

▶ Yeah.

是的。

▶ Well, to your point about the effect on the economy, we're already hearing from some business leaders.

关于对经济的影响，我们已经听到一些商业领袖的声音。

bilibili 00:07:59

▶ They are calling for government intervention before this goes any further.

他们呼吁政府在此事进一步发展之前进行干预。

▶ What can you tell us about that?

你能告诉我们什么？

▶ So I mean usually Sarah and you know this that that usually to get you know a back to work legislation or even to force both sides into binding arbitration you need legislation you need the house to be sitting you need to recall everybody uh and and and go through it that way.

我的意思是，莎拉，你知道通常要通过复工立法或迫使双方进入约束性仲裁，你需要立法，需要议会开会，需要召回所有人，然后走这个流程。

bilibili 00:08:22

▶ There is a mechanism that Air Canada has asked the the government to use that would allow them to force both sides into binding arbitration without using that legislation.

加拿大航空要求政府使用一种机制，可以在不使用立法的情况下迫使双方进入约束性仲裁。

▶ So, it'll be interesting to see how the government, how the union, how uh, you know, sort of civil society reacts to that because that would be a change in the process.

因此，看看政府、工会以及民间社会如何反应会很有趣，因为这将改变流程。

▶ But yeah, you know, we're we're hearing from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, from the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, Dan Kelly, who you know well from from the CFIB said, "Canada can't afford any more economic uncertainty.

是的，你知道，我们听到加拿大商会、加拿大独立企业联合会的丹·凯利说：“加拿大不能再承受更多的经济不确定性。”

bilibili 00:08:53

▶ a federal government needs to be prepared to intervene immediately given the threat of an Air Canada flight attendant strike.

鉴于加拿大航空空乘人员罢工的威胁，联邦政府需要准备好立即干预。

⏮ The impact on small businesses, tourism, and our growing need for greater interprovincial and international trade connections would be massive.

对小企业、旅游业以及我们对更多省际和国际贸易联系日益增长的需求的影响将是巨大的。

⏮ And I think that comes back to the point I was making about why the stakes are so high, right?

我认为这回到了我之前说的为什么风险如此之高的观点，对吧？

bilibili 00:09:11

⏮ We we are trying as best we can to grow the economy in spite of the trade war and the tariffs and all of the uncertainty that they bring.

尽管贸易战、关税及其带来的不确定性，我们仍在尽力发展经济。

⏮ piling this kind of uncertainty and the chaos that would come with an actual strike or a lockout would be enormous and would be massively consequential for the Canadian economy as well.

再加上这种不确定性以及实际罢工或停工带来的混乱将是巨大的，对加拿大经济也将产生重大影响。

⏮ Uh which is why I think you know there is still hope that these two sides can reach a deal and there's certainly an awful lot of pressure on both the union and the airline to get back to the table and really get back to negotiating.

这就是为什么我认为双方仍有可能达成协议，而且工会和航空公司都面临巨大压力，需要回到谈判桌前真正重新谈判。

bilibili 00:09:41

⏮ Peter, off the top I think I slipped and said that you were from in Vancouver.

彼得，一开始我说错了，说你在温哥华。

⏮ Uh of course you're based in Toronto.

当然，你是在多伦多。
