no gas and then you have to go fetch wood find clean water life is a challenge and you know I just want to talk about Gaza as in the coast and Israelis are not even allowing the fishermen to go fish in Gaza so this is there is no militants in the water people can fish and bring it home and cook and keep families alive that's not happening and in fact today I watch a video of there is a Israeli's detaining to fishermen near Hanyunis and that's the gift of nature for Gaza we have the coast and we're not allowed to fish somebody wants to hold me the Palestinians are not they're supposed to farm without land and fish without water and that's the situation in Gaza and get what there's six thousand eight trucks for under one you and our w s six thousand eight trucks about the kilo outside of Gaza borders and there been denied entry by the F why they have many reasons they have many fabrications but they're really good allegations they're never good about evidence so when it comes to Israeli token points you feel the allegations are good enough to be an evidence but that's far fits in our this is not we mentioned just before the report that israel says that Hamas is manufacturing a hunger crisis and that there are hundreds of eight trucks inside Gaza and that that aid can't be distributed because Hamas militants are getting in the way I mean where does all of this leave civilians obviously because we are seeing this letter from aid agencies more than a hundred agents he's saying that people are starving literally wasting away yeah I mean look there's Israelis who have you believe these UN agencies are the bad guys and they and their mercenary friends they fly from Wyoming and North Carolina are the good guys they're intentionally you're talking about those Gaza humanitarian foundation which is a very debolical plan and people are being starved and people try to find food and when they go to these aid sites more than a thousand Palestinians were killed this is this is tragedy because people want a bag of flour they're not numbers they're not AI some of these people I know and my friends in the last couple of days when I'm saying as these UN agencies and also American agencies that are big and they have the scale to do this they're being stopped from delivered the word central kitchen close in Gaza that's not a UN agency there really been a love with Israel and the Israelis killed their staff and now they're not allowing me to bring food look desperate conditions in Gaza is real people grab food but guess what look at February this this year there was no looting why people loot food when it's scarce and it's expensive you can argue yes when you are you can argue that the Israeli is banning food the restricting food from getting to Gaza is benefiting the bad actors who's going to go fight for a bag of flour when you could buy it for a dollar it is now a thousand dollars that's why it becomes a commodity because it's scarce after some other news the third round of peace talks between Russia and Ukraine in Istanbul ended without a breakthrough and the streets of Ukraine meanwhile they're seeing the biggest protest since Russia's full-scale invasion began more than three years ago these protests were sparked by President Bolotomir

 00:18:18

▶ We've seen criticism already that this is simply deregulating the industry.

我们已经看到批评称这只是放松行业监管。

▶ Yeah, hi, Simea. Thanks for having me.

是的，嗨，西米亚。谢谢邀请我。

🎧 So looking at this from the perspective of an AI policy researcher, I think there are aspects of the action plan that many of us actually see as quite promising in terms of recommendations that we've previously made to the government.

因此，从人工智能政策研究人员的角度来看，我认为该行动计划的某些方面实际上是我们许多人认为相当有希望的，就我们之前向政府提出的建议而言。

 00:18:41

🎧 So I think investing in the kind of open AI model ecosystem, which the US has not done to the extent that it might compare to countries like China is one kind of strength that we've seen in the plans so far.

因此，我认为投资于开放人工智能模型生态系统是美国尚未做到与中国等国家相媲美的程度，这是我们在计划中看到的优势之一。

🎧 Another is building an AI evaluation ecosystem, which I think many of us researchers recognize as being important for developing kind of control robustness in terms of the AI systems that the government tries to use.

另一个是建立人工智能评估生态系统，我认为我们许多研究人员认为这对于政府在尝试使用的人工智能系统中发展控制稳健性很重要。

🎧 And then finally, developing a workforce that's capable and ready for the challenges posed by AI as a major part of the action plan.

最后，开发一支能够并准备好应对人工智能挑战的劳动力是该行动计划的主要部分。

 00:19:17

🎧 So I think from that perspective, those are bullet points that ring pretty true to AI policy researchers.

因此，我认为从这个角度来看，这些要点对人工智能政策研究人员来说相当真实。

🎧 I think the major implementation here or the major challenge here rather is going to be implementation.

我认为这里的主要实施或主要挑战将是实施。

🎧 AI policy doesn't happen without people.

人工智能政策离不开人。

🎧 And I think you're seeing that science policy doesn't necessarily happen in a vacuum.

我认为您看到科学政策并不一定在真空中发生。

 00:19:37

🎧 There are kind of tensions and trade-offs between cutting funding, personnel, research and government expertise.

在削减资金、人员、研究和政府专业知识之间存在某种紧张和权衡。

🎧 And so I think given that these are recommendations, we're going to have to see how the devil is in the details when it comes to the actual implementation.

因此，鉴于这些是建议，我们将不得不看到在实际实施中细节决定成败。

🎧 What about the criticism from some AI experts who have said that this is again deregulating the industry to the benefit of big technology companies excuse me in the US.

那么，一些人工智能专家的批评呢？他们说这再次放松了对行业的监管，有利于美国的大型科技公司。

 00:20:06

🎧 And yeah, and I think this is one of the areas where perhaps there's more continuity than we might expect.

是的，我认为这是其中一个领域，可能比我们预期的连续性更强。

🎧 So in the US, most of the kind of executive branch policy over the past decade across both Democratic and Republican administrations has been geared towards developing voluntary standards for the biggest AI companies in order to kind of not stand in the way of innovation by implementing guardrails.

因此，在美国，过去十年中民主党和共和党政府的大部分行政部门政策都旨在为最大的人工智能公司制定自愿标准，以便通过实施护栏不妨碍创新。

🎧 I think obviously rhetorically the administration has kind of adapted a very maximalist approach in talking about removing barriers to innovation.

我认为显然在言辞上，政府在谈论消除创新障碍时采取了一种非常极端的做法。

 00:20:44

🎧 But I think there's actually quite a bit of continuity when it comes to not trying to impose on companies into harness innovation.

但我认为在不试图强加公司以利用创新方面实际上有相当多的连续性。

🎧 And again, like I think the rhetoric around some of the competition is perhaps higher than it was in the past, but there's probably a surprising amount of continuity to the casual observer.

再次，我认为围绕某些竞争的言辞可能比过去更高，但对普通观察者来说，连续性可能令人惊讶。

🎧 So the administration has also talked about a quote, woke bias in AI systems, something that they want to target.

因此，政府还谈到了人工智能系统中的“觉醒偏见”，这是他们想要针对的目标。

 00:21:11

🎧 First of all, can a bias be detected in AI systems?

首先，人工智能系统中可以检测到偏见吗？

🎧 And are you worried about the regulation of that as regulation of speech?

您是否担心将其作为言论监管进行监管？

🎧 Yeah, so bias is one of the kind of longstanding challenges in the AI industry.

是的，因此偏见是人工智能行业中长期存在的挑战之一。

🎧 AI models tend to produce results that are heavily linked to the data that they were trained on.

人工智能模型倾向于产生与其训练数据紧密相关的结果。

🎧 And so controlling bias has been our perpetual issue across AI developers.

因此，控制偏见一直是人工智能开发人员面临的永恒问题。

 00:21:37

🎧 I think we don't want models that incorporate bias that's kind of politically oriented in either direction.

我认为我们不希望模型包含任何政治方向的偏见。

🎧 I think the extent to which this administration is kind of used the language of woke makes this more of a political football.

我认为政府在多大程度上使用“觉醒”语言使这更像是一个政治足球。

🎧 Perhaps then we would ideally like it to be when it comes to the conversation of bias in AI models.

也许在讨论人工智能模型中的偏见时，我们理想情况下希望如此。

 00:21:57

🎧 But ideally, we'd like to try to eradicate bias and models the extent that we can and make sure that they're not politically influenced in either direction.

但理想情况下，我们希望尽可能消除模型中的偏见，并确保它们不受任何政治方向的影响。

▶ And as you say, four people, including this doctor have now pleaded guilty, a fifth has pleaded not guilty, a woman known according to prosecutors in Hollywood as the ketamine queen.

如你所说，包括这名医生在内的四人现已认罪，第五人表示不认罪，一名被好莱坞检察官称为“氯胺酮女王”的女子。

该审判将于下月进行。
