The president said the final cost of the project would be 175 billion.

总统表示该项目的最终成本将达到1750亿美元。

Our North America correspondent Peter Bose told me more about the proposal.

我们的北美记者彼得·博斯向我详细介绍了这一提议。

This is Donald Trump's plan to essentially futureproof the United States from potential attacks from its adversaries and it is looking ahead.

这是特朗普旨在从根本上为美国防范潜在对手攻击的计划，具有前瞻性。

It is looking at the potential developments in terms of missile technology and the way that the United States could be attacked from targets well from targets that uh pointed out from the earth and from space and and that's the significant difference.

该计划着眼于导弹技术的潜在发展，以及美国可能遭受来自地球和太空目标的攻击方式，这是重大区别。

Targets in United States may be traditional in a certain sense but the way in which the adversaries will use technology with weapons that essentially fired from space is going to be the future.

美国的攻击目标在某种意义上可能是传统的，但对手利用从太空发射武器的技术方式将成为未来趋势。

And you'll get many defense experts who say that this is how Donald Trump and other world leaders should be looking at defense for the future.

许多国防专家认为，这正是特朗普和其他世界领导人应关注的未来防御方向。

The big question is is Donald Trump being overly ambitious.

关键问题在于特朗普是否过于雄心勃勃。

This seems to be molded on Israel's Iron Dome which of course is designed and has been used for some time now to prevent short range attacks in a relatively small country.

该系统似乎借鉴了以色列的“铁穹”系统，后者设计用于在较小国家防范短程攻击，并已投入使用一段时间。

The United States is is of course very different.

美国的情况当然大不相同。

This is a a vast expanse of land, at least mainland America, and the technology required, especially to get the hardware into space, is going to be tremendously sophisticated.

美国幅员辽阔，至少本土如此，所需技术尤其是将硬件送入太空的技术将极其复杂。

And some critics say that President Trump won't be able to achieve it in the three and a half years that he's spelled out.

一些批评者认为，特朗普总统无法在其所述的三年半时间内实现这一目标。
